

BRITAIN IS BATHED IN 'SEA OF FLAMES'; BRITISH RAIDS TAKE TOLL IN BERLIN

Conscription Proponents Gird for Fight in House; Army Is Ready With Plan to Mobilize Guardsmen

Measure Is Passed In Senate

Upper House Vote Is
58 to 31; Debate in Lower House Is Set
For Tuesday

Washington, Aug. 29 (P)—The House military committee approved today a Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill calling for drafting of men from 21 to 44 years of age, inclusive—a much wider age range than that provided in the bill which the Senate passed last night.

House Drive Begins

Washington, Aug. 29 (P)—Their battle for peacetime conscription half won by a 58 to 31 vote victory in the Senate, supporters of the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill mustered forces today for the fight to come in the House.

After three weeks of stormy and often acrimonious debate, the senate gave its approval to conscription last night at the close of a tense, 9-hour session.

The bill, as passed, was substantially unchanged in its essentials from the version originally recommended by the senate military committee. One major addition would give the government the power to "conscript" industry for defense, if necessary.

The victory of peacetime conscription in the senate was expected to hasten the action of the house military committee on a somewhat different version of the Burke-Wadsworth bill which it is considering.

House debate is tentatively scheduled to start Tuesday and forecasts were that it would consume at least four days. Proponents of conscription were optimistic that the bill would be passed, and opponents of the measure privately conceded that chances of defeating it were slim.

Major Provisions

The bill, as passed by the senate, contained the following major provisions:

All male citizens or prospective citizens from 21 through 30 would be required to register, with few exceptions.

Registered men would be subject to call for a year's compulsory military service.

The men called for service would be selected in an "impartial manner," and in such numbers as the president specifies. The maximum number of trainees at any one time is limited to 900,000.

The bill also provided for an increase in the basic army pay, which conscripts would receive, from $21 to $30 a month.

Exemption from service would be granted registrants who are physically or mentally unfit, who have dependents, or who are employed in necessary agricultural or industrial jobs.

If the measure should be approved in substantially the same form by the house, a registration day probably would be set by the president about 15 days after the legislation became law. Then, by October 15, the army would expect to induct its first quota of conscripts, approximately 75,000 young men. If army plans materialized, 400,000 would be in training by January 1 and 400,000 more by April 1.

Differs on Big Point

In its present state, however, the version of the Burke-Wadsworth bill now in the House committee, differs on one big point from the Senate-approved measure. It would make all men between 21 and 45 subject to registration and possible service, thus widening the age bracket.

Some rumblings of House opposition were heard against a few of the amendments which the Senate voted yesterday before it reached the end of its 13-day finish-fight on the legislation which would give

Georgia Democrat Gets Big Orders

Washington, Aug. 29 (P)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house naval committee has published in the Congressional Record a list of defense contracts calling for fees of $931,560 awarded to Robert and Company, Atlanta engineering firm, which committee members said was headed by L. W. (Chip) Robert, secretary of the Democratic national committee.

The list showed that of 66 negotiated contracts awarded for engineering and architectural services, the Robert firm obtained eight. The estimated construction cost of the eight projects amounted to $26,859,081.

The Navy Department furnished the data at Vinson's request after Rep. Vincent (D-Ky.) had questioned Rear Admiral Ben Moreell, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, about contracts awarded the concern without competitive bidding.

35 Persons Suffer Food Poisoning at Platt Clove Camp

State Health Department
Investigates Outbreak at
New York Police
Encampment

Thirty-five adults and children at the New York City Police Recreation Camp at Platt Clove suffered an attack of food poisoning early Wednesday morning and were treated by several physicians. None of them were seriously ill.

The cause of the attack has not been ascertained and an investigation is under way by the state department of health in an effort to determine the source of the poison. Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, district state health officer of this city, has been conducting the investigation and was at the camp again today.

Nazis Hope For Final Talk Friday

Von Ribbentrop, Ciano
Hold Separate Talks
With Hungarians
and Rumanians

Vienna, Aug. 29 (P)—Hungarian and Rumanian delegations, brought to this capital of old Austria by axis "peacemakers," communicated the suggestions of Rome and Berlin for a Transylvanian settlement to their governments today after separate two-hour talks with German and Italian foreign ministers.

German spokesmen said "from various signs it can be presumed that, perhaps tomorrow, concluding results will be reached."

The Hungarians, Premier Count Pal Teleky and Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaky, and the Rumanians, Foreign Minister Mihail Manoilescu and his aides, had not yet come together in a four-power roundtable to discuss any proposed new frontier. They held separate talks with Joachim Von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano, the German and Italian foreign ministers.

The preliminary discussions were held at the Imperial Hotel, headquarters of Ribbentrop and Ciano.

A German spokesman said the talks would be conducted "in a spirit of comradely cooperation." He declined to discuss the possibility that arbitration might be necessary.

Five-Point Program
"No hard and fast program has been laid down," said the spokesman, but the following objectives were summarized:

Small Town in Indiana Takes on Appearance of Sudden Boom as Nominee 'Rest's'

Rushville, Ind., Aug. 29 (P)—While townspeople are bustling to entertain an ever-growing stream of visitors, Wendell L. Willkie is greeting political callers on the front porch and lawn of the sprawling red brick home he has rented for his presidential campaign.

The street in front of the 80-year-old residence is blocked off with saw-horses but the sidewalk is filled throughout the day with men and women who cheer each appearance of the Republican nominee.

A banner downtown proclaims "Rush County Presents Wendell L. Willkie." The hotel Lollis is crowded with newspapermen and members of Willkie's personal staff. Restaurants have hired extra waitresses and several stores have re-painted their fronts.

Although Willkie told reporters yesterday "I am taking it as easy as I can," his appointment book generally is full and he is working in spare hours on speeches for his western campaign tour.

He held a press conference yes-

Bitter Third Term
Fight in Texas

No Third-Term Democrat
Party Formed; Willkie
Drive Is Hailed

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 29 (P)—A no-third-term movement was afoot in normally-Democratic Texas today, bent on helping Wendell Willkie in his effort to make the state go Republican for the second time in its history.

The no-third-term Democratic party, under the leadership of Mike Hogg of Houston, was organized last night before a crowd that half-filled the lower floor of Fair Park auditorium, which has a capacity of 5,500. Hogg is the son of the late Texas Governor James Stephen Hogg.

Texas in 1928 swung its support to Herbert Hoover in preference to Al Smith.

A prime point in a "declaration of principles" adopted at the meeting said:

"... We pledge our support and appeal to all true Democrats to pledge their support to the election of Wendell L. Willkie for president in order that we may assure the preservation of this republic."

Hogg said "we . . . thank our lucky stars for the emergence at this time of that great Democrat, Wendell L. Willkie, who will lead us out of chaos and back into the democratic way."

Hogg was authorized to name an executive committee of 31 members representing each of the state's senatorial districts.

The declaration of principles gave unqualified support to all state and local candidates on the Democratic ticket.

A telegram from Willkie at Rushville, Ind., said "the crusade which I am leading includes people of all parties—Democrats, Republicans and independents. We draw no party lines, because the cause we represent is the cause of America."

First Call To Come in Two Weeks

Officials Work on Idea
President Will Give
Order for Sept. 15
Mobilization

Washington, Aug. 29 (P)—The army was ready with tentative timetables and plans today to start building the largest peacetime force in the nation's history.

An order from President Roosevelt for the progressive mobilization of the National Guard would start the program through its first phases. The Chief Executive acquired the mobilization authority under legislation he signed Tuesday night.

House passage of the conscription bill, approved last night by the Senate, would clear the way for the second part of the program.

The Guard mobilization, army officers have told Congress, was an essential preliminary to the training of conscript levies.

Tentative Plans

Forthcoming, tentative plans provide for calling up the first contingent of 55,000 Guardsmen for a year's active training on September 15 and 165,000 more by December 1, giving a total of 220,000.

If conscription is enacted, the plan tentatively is to have 400,000 conscripts start their year's service by the end of December, another 400,000 on April 1, 1941, and similar half-yearly increments until October 1, 1944. The date of the first conscription would depend on how soon the bill is approved.

A schedule recommended by a joint army and navy committee provides that 15 days after conscription becomes law, some 12,000,000 men from 21 through 30 must go to their local voting places and register.

Registration over, local boards would take up the task of classification and selection, assigning to each registrant a serial number chosen by lot.

Government's Emphasis on Purchase Of Training Planes Is Stressed Again

Washington, Aug. 29 (P)—The government's emphasis on the purchase of training rather than combat planes was stressed anew today in the controversy over orders for aircraft.

The latest contract, announced by the army last night, called for 850 training and 20 transports costing $14,410,233. Delivery dates were not specified.

Senator Byrd (D., Va.) stirred up the controversy last week with an assertion that only 343 combat planes had been ordered in the last 100 days. President Roosevelt later confirmed that figure but said that Byrd's implication was dead wrong.

The President added that one of the prime objectives of the program was first to acquire training planes to instruct pilots for a major air fleet. Secretary Knox voiced the same thought yesterday and struck at what he termed "unintelligent criticism" of the program.

Combined figures from the White House, army, navy and defense commission gave this overall picture of military planes ordered but not yet delivered:

Planes for which contracts have been signed—7,231.

Nazis Drop 60 Bombs In Section

Portsmouth Naval Base
Ruined, Say Germans: Untold Numbers Are Killed

10 Die in Berlin

British Stage 3-Hour
Attack Upon Nazi
Capital

(By The Associated Press)

German dive-bombing stukas smashed at Britain's naval base of Portsmouth and reportedly left it "a sea of flames" today after a night of double-barreled terror for 12,000,000 civilians in the fiercest air raids of the war over London and Berlin.

Untold numbers were killed, and great fires set by incendiary bombs blazed in both capitals.

German air raiders in widespread daylight forays today followed up their greatest night attack of the war in which thousands of incendiary and high explosive bombs wrought destruction, death and injury in all parts of England and Wales.

The renewal of the raids came in southeast England this afternoon. A little later raiders were reported over the Welsh towns.

60 Fire Bombs

In a single London district, more than 60 fire bombs fell amid tightly-jammed rows of houses as a marathon of Nazi raiders pounded the metropolis for seven hours and 10 minutes—the fifth straight night attack on London and the longest sustained attack of the war.

British RAF bombers struck back with a 3-hour attack on Berlin before dawn, raining high explosives and incendiary bombs within two miles of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's chancellery in the Wilhelmstrasse and taking a toll of 10 known dead and 30 wounded.

Roof fires were reported in many sections of the German capital, and sidewalks were littered with broken glass. Craters 10 feet wide and five feet deep yawned in street pavement, blasted out by 100-pound bombs.

New 'Silence' Technique
Nazi airmen displayed a new "silence" technique in raids spread-eagling the British Isles, cutting their motors to avoid attracting searchlight beams and gliding down to the attack.

In one London section, four members of a family who had taken refuge in an underground shelter were killed when a bomb scored a direct hit and blew it out of the ground.

The semi-official British Press Association, taking note of the wholesale use of fire bombs, called the raid "the most venomous attack of the war against Britain" and accused Hitler of sending his "fire raiders to scatter their incendiaries indiscriminately" against "towns, villages and open heaths."

Censorship kept secret the number of British casualties, and the official statement was only that there were "some deaths."

Suez Is Bombed

The Italian high command, meanwhile, reported that Fascist planes bombed the Suez Canal—Britain's vital life-line to her Far East colonies in time of peace—for the first time in the war.

Italian bombs dropped on the far north end of the canal, between Port Said and Ismailia, the high command said.

An aviator-reporter for DNB, official German news agency, said a surprise attack on an airbase near Portsmouth, on the English southwest coast, turned the RAF into "a desert full of craters."

Other Nazi raiders reported pre-dawn attacks "with notable success" against the big military and naval depot at Chatham, 30 miles southeast of London; Liverpool, Thameshaven and Middlebrough. Huge fires were reported.

Rev. F. L. Gollnick To Assume Duties Minister to Become Pastor of Local Church

The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick of Oneonta, who has accepted a call to become pastor of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church on Spring street, will assume his duties as pastor on September 1, and will preach his first sermon on Sunday, September 8. There will be no church services this Sunday in the church.

The Rev. Mr. Gollnick succeeds the Rev. William H. Pretzsch, who had resigned earlier in the year. Mr. Gollnick had been serving as pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement in Oneonta since February 1, 1936.

While in charge of the Oneonta church the Rev. Mr. Gollnick doubled its membership, and the church indebtedness had been reduced by several hundred dollars. He was also active in community affairs, helping to organize the Youth Frontiers, and being a member of the NYA advisory committee. He was also a past member of the Rotary Club and a member of the board of trustees of Hartwick Academy, Hartwick Seminary.

He was born in Meriden, Conn., and attended high school there. He studied a year at Yale Divinity School, receiving his A. B. degree from Wagner College, his bachelor of divinity degree from Hartwick Seminary, and took graduate work in Rochester University and the New School of Social Research in New York city.

He is married and has one son, Richard.

Aviator Submits To Test Prior to Scheduled Jump

Chicago, Aug. 29 (P).—Arthur H. Starnes, 35 year old aviator who will make a 35,000 foot parachute leap in the interests of science, already has a rough idea of what it's like.

Except for the sensation of falling and the temperature, Starnes underwent the effects that will be produced by a leap from the stratosphere when he was subjected to a test last night.

The test was conducted at Northwestern University Medical School. As Starnes sat in a low pressure steel chamber a motor exhausted the air until the pressure equalled that at an altitude of 36,000 feet.

Then air was permitted to rush into the chamber to produce the physical effect which would be experienced in falling 750 miles an hour, or greatly exceeding the velocity of a falling object. Starnes emerged apparently without suffering ill effects.

Weimer Escapes

Indianapolis, Aug. 29 (P).—Detective Sergeant Charles E. Bauer of the Indianapolis police department reported today Simon Weimer, 35, of Mineola, N. Y., had escaped as he was bringing him here to answer to a grand larceny charge in the theft of $5,000 worth of diamonds. Bauer said Weimer slipped off a New York Central passenger train at 2:30 a. m. yesterday near Syracuse, N. Y.

Paish Leaves Capital

Washington, Aug. 29 (P).—Sir George Paish, whose name figured in Senate discussion of the conscription bill, has left Washington for an unannounced destination. A clerk at the Wardman Park Hotel said the Englishman had relatives in Albany, N. Y., and he might have gone there. Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) told his colleagues that Sir George was in America for the purpose of getting America into war.

U. S. Army Will Use Newspaper Ads To Get Recruits

'Learn and Earn' Campaign to Begin Next Week as $250,000 Fund Gives
Necessary Push

Philadelphia, Aug. 29 (P).—The U. S. army is going out after recruits next week through the medium of newspaper advertising with a campaign playing up a chance to "learn and earn."

The war department has earmarked $250,000 for the national program, designed to supplement recruiting activities to bring the army's enlisted strength up to its full authorized 375,000 men by January 1.

On September 3, the first of a series of advertisements will start in 856 daily papers and 25 sectional agricultural publications. The average community from coast to coast will be reminded about once a week of where a man can go in his own home town to find out about recruiting.

Statistics Studied
Planning the campaign, N. W. Ayer and son, of Philadelphia, an advertising agency, delved into army recruiting statistics.

"It showed us," said an executive, "that a majority of men join up because they want a chance to learn some skilled trade, and improve their earning power." So the first ad—not without a touch of glamour—will tell all about the advantages of becoming a flying cadet, replete with salary inducements and the excellent training for a career.

Subsequent ads will bring out the opportunities offered by other arms of the service.

The agency is trying to place the ads in that part of the paper most likely to attract the largest number of men between the ages of 18 and 31—the first sports page.

Jail Sentence and Fine For Public Intoxication

Leo Leonardo, 36, native of Italy, who gave his address as 132 East 28 street, New York city, was arrested at Rosendale last night by Deputies Winne and O'Brien on a charge of public intoxication. Leonardo was arraigned before Justice Ralph Dewey, who imposed a fine of $10 and a sentence of 30 days in the Ulster county jail. The fine was paid, after which Leo was taken to the county jail to serve the 30 days.

The arrest followed a complaint to the sheriff's office that Leonardo who has been employed as a cook at Williams Lake, had gone on a rampage and was threatening to make trouble.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes
Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or crusty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

ABSENTEE BALLOT

Under the provisions of the central registration law all persons who expect to be out of the city during October when personal registration will take place may register now by applying for an absentee ballot. Registration may be made at the Board of Elections office on John street not later than 12 noon on Saturday.

Members of the 156th Field Artillery may be called out during September and they may be unable to return to register at the polling places in October. If the local soldiers are not registered now and they are mobilized and unable to return on the regular registration days, they will lose their right to vote. If a citizen is not registered he cannot vote in the coming Fall election. This is an important election and all who are privileged to exercise their precious right of franchise should see to it that they register and then cast their ballot.

If a soldier registers now and finds later that he will be able to register at the regular polling places and on the regular registration days in October, he will not violate any law, but if he is not registered now and cannot return in October he will be ineligible to vote at this coming general election.

This law is not only for soldiers but for all persons who will be unable to register at the polling places during October.

IS NATIONALISM DOOMED?

"We have become so accustomed to the idea of nationalism," writes Howard Vincent O'Brien in the Chicago News, "that we are blind to the alterations in that idea which are being made in modern economic and social life."

"In France, there was a powerful group that had to decide between two fears. For Scylla there was 'the people' and for Charybdis there was Hitler. Between the two they preferred Hitler. Under him they figured they would be safer than without him."

"France thus ceases to be a nation and becomes a province in the Greater Reich."

"In the age of nationalism, loyalty was vertical. Now, it appears, we are entering an age of horizontal loyalties, and great is the resulting confusion."

"Germany, it seems, is unified as France once was. But underneath the well-ordered exterior we can be sure that the same disintegrating play of forces is at work."

"Germany, of course, is a novice in the idea of nationalism. 'Germany' only dates from 1870. But with the increasing tempo of change, it is likely that the Germans will not be so slow to liquify as the French were."

"The revolutionary melting pot is at a boil these days, and what will come out is anybody's guess. It does seem probable, however, that in Europe, if not elsewhere, the concept of nationalism is going to undergo some fundamental alterations, and perhaps be obliterated entirely. Win, lose or draw, the world is not going back to 1939."

And in America? It doesn't seem likely that there can be such a melting process here. But who knows? Certainly vast changes are at work here, right now. We may be on the edge of a new internationalism. What of a Pan-American merger? Or a merger of America, Canada and Britain?

DEFENSE ONLY

Congress is determined, apparently with the approval of a great number of Americans, to mark in advance the limits of national defense. An amendment to the pending conscription legislation, adopted by a vote of 67 to 4 in the Senate, provides that "persons inducted into the land or naval forces of the United States pursuant to this act shall not be employed beyond the limits of the Western Hemisphere, except in the territories and possessions of the United States, including the Philippines."

The same restriction was put into the National Guard Mobilization Act. It may be a wise restriction, although no one today is able to foresee all the possible developments of the next year or two. America's prime purpose is defense. We have no thought of aggressive or punitive expeditions into any other land, no thought of enlarging our own territory, no thought of conquest to enhance our own power. We intend to maintain our independence and, so far, we believe that it can be maintained best by employing our armed forces strictly within the limits of this hemisphere. May time and future events uphold our present judgment.

BILL BULLITT AND CONGRESS

Ambassador Bullitt, who lives up to his name, probably deserved some of the roasting he has got in the United States Senate, but not all. In his recent speech he said some things that needed saying.

This, for instance. He wanted to know when the American public was going to tell the lawmakers in Washington that our people are ready to make sacrifices for freedom. And he suggested that the American public right now is more concerned about its duties than its privileges.

John Milton once used a memorable line on this same theme. He spoke of "Duty, stern daughter of the voice of God." Our people may be listening to that voice more than to senators who drag on their sterile debate instead of hastening national defense.

RETURN OF A TURTLE

Away back in 1880 John Sampson of Hammon, N. J., caught a small land turtle, carved his initials on its back and let it go. He never saw it again.

The other day John's wife and daughter-in-law, out driving, saw a large turtle in the middle of the road and stopped to pick it up. They found that it bore the initials and date that Mr. Sampson had carved sixty years ago. And maybe old John didn't get a kick out of that!

Now, no doubt, the practice of carving initials on turtle's backs will have a big boost.

People are slowly drifting back to their jobs, and by the middle of September most of them will have recovered from their vacations.

Seems as if anybody who wants any of the Somalilands would be an easy mark for a real estate swindler.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

HEARING AIDS

One of the pleasing sights these days is the efficient though hard of hearing clerk behind an "information" desk who is not ashamed of the little button worn behind his ear, in his ear, or a "receiver" attached to upper part of his coat or vest. A short time ago a clerk or other worker who was growing hard of hearing knew that his work of dealing with the public would be soon lost to him. Today he is able to get a hearing aid suitable for his particular type of hearing loss. Not only is his job now safe, but his outlook on life is normal. Not only is he able to carry on his work, but he is now a part of his surroundings, one of the members of the family or community, able to hear and to take part in conversation.

The history of blind people is that they are happier than those who have lost their hearing for just that reason—they are able to hear and take part in conversation. The hard of hearing individual has been "shut out" of many things.

In speaking of the present standing of hearing aids, Dr. Horace Newhart, Minneapolis, in Archives of Physical Therapy, states that 95 per cent of the electric hearing aids sold are of the carbon microphone type in which eight improvements have already been made in the hearing apparatus itself and in fitting it to the individual.

Testing with an audiogram (which records the amount and type of hearing present) equipped to measure loss of hearing both by air (sound going into outer ear) and bone conduction (air going direct from bone behind ear to hearing nerve) is the important step in prescription of the correct type of hearing aid. The physician must familiarize himself with the elementary principles of physics to help fitting of the proper aid. The type of hearing loss present (not just the amount) is important in the selection of hearing aids.

As noted above, the point is that no longer is it necessary for many suffering with hard of hearing to avoid contacts with friends, church, the theatre or movies. And the most gratifying point is that the hard of hearing are willing to wear or use hearing aids recognizing that it is just as sensible to use hearing aids as it is to wear glasses to aid vision.

THE EAGLE AND THE LION'S CUB

"AT CENTURY'S TURN"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Interest in aerial navigation was high in Kingston in 1911, following a successful flight made in a balloon by Leo Stevens, accompanied by Charles Walsh of the Kingston Gas & Electric Company, and Secretary William F. Hoehn of the Chamber of Commerce, and one result was a meeting held on Wednesday evening, June 14 of that year at the home of Ralph K. Forsyth on Pearl street.

As a result of that meeting the Kingston Aero Club was organized with Secretary Hoehn as temporary president, and J. N. French as temporary secretary. It was decided to limit the membership of the club to 25 members.

The men who met that night to organize the club were Charles Walsh, J. N. French, W. F. Hoehn, Ralph K. Forsyth, Charles Waldron, Herbert Carl, Aaron Cohen, and William J. Turck.

Herbert Carl, who was one of the leading merchants of Kingston for many years, and who owned the mammoth department store on North Front street at the head of Wall street, for years housed the Herbert Carl Day Goods Company, was deeply interested in aerial flight.

Mr. Carl displayed his interest by sponsoring a biplane flight between Kingston and Hurley, and engaged Frank J. Fitzsimmons of New York, a noted aviator, to make the flight in a Curtis biplane.

Mr. Fitzsimmons and the flying machine arrived in Kingston on Thursday, June 22, 1911, and on Monday, June 26 he attempted a flight to old Hurley, which resulted in the wrecking of the machine and a narrow escape for Mr. Fitzsimmons who was found pinned under the wreck, but uninjured.

Another machine was obtained and on Monday, July 10, Mr. Fitzsimmons again made an attempt to fly to Hurley but again met with misfortune. Wednesday morning, July 12, Fitzsimmons had another narrow escape when he was making a trial spin over the lowlands and the machine fell into the Esopus creek.

Many of the older readers of the column will recall the various attempts made by Fitzsimmons to fly to Hurley, and the ill luck he met in his attempts.

Today with modern airplanes a flight to Hurley is a mere incident in the life of a flyer, and with the construction of the Kingston airport some years ago it is a common sight to see airplanes flying over Kingston.

The two chief villains in the accident prevention drama last year were falls and automobile accidents. They collaborated to kill 62 per cent of the 93,000 persons who died in accidents in 1939.

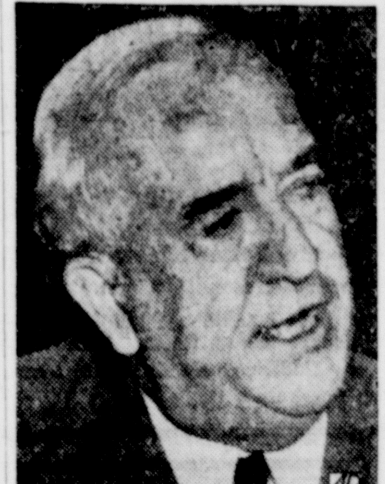

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—If any of you readers or your acquaintances are wondering about the Hatch act, which keeps all federal full or part-time employees out of politics and otherwise makes a hazard of some objectionable tricks in the national political game, tip your hat to a man who is himself waging his biggest political campaign under the new rules and regulations.

He is John J. Dempsey. Friends call him Jack. He's around 60. He's white of hair and red of face, but he looks, acts and talks like a post-graduate athlete in his upper forties.

For six years he has been New Mexico's only representative in the House. Now, he's campaigning from the snow-capped peaks above Raton Pass to the sandy bottoms of the Rio Grande, for United States senator. (Incumbent Senator Dennis Chavez is his primary opponent.)

He's not the only man in politics who got there inadvertently, but he is one of the few. As a result of a long personal friendship with (and mutual admiration for) President Roosevelt, he was designated to set up the New Mexico recovery program in the hectic summer of 1933. A year later he dropped in on the New Mexico state Democratic convention and found himself nominated for the state's single seat in the lower house.

Succeeds With 100 Bills

For three terms he has been elected with clock-like regularity. He has seen 100 of his sponsored bills written into the statute books and has earned an enviable reputation for personal popularity.

That is not all. Dempsey's story is that of a man who emerged after years in the subways of New York City and won success in the wide open spaces.

Jack Dempsey was born in White Haven, Pa., near Wilkes-Barre. His first job and he needed it—was waterboy with a Lehigh Valley railroad construction crew. His second was telegrapher for the same railroad. He taught himself the code.

At 19, he was tapping the keys in that labyrinthic underworld known as the New York City subway system. You can't keep a good man underground, he demonstrated, and eventually he was vice-president of the company in charge of operations.

Made Fortune in Oil

You would think a fellow like that would stick by his guns. But not Jack Dempsey. He took his savings out to Oklahoma, where he again went in for underground stuff. This time it was oil. He pyramided his savings into a fortune.

When most men are just hitting their stride, Jack decided he had enough of the world's goods to compensate for the years of water-boying and dot-dashing and he re-

"Jackpot"

By Erskine Caldwell

Probably the average quality of Erskine Caldwell's short stories is as high as that of any American practitioner. But Mr. Caldwell is no exception to the rule that a string of 75 stories, all in one book, must contain some pretty thin matter.

He has assembled 75 stories, no less, for a book he or some one else entitled "Jackpot." Since it was clearly impossible for anybody to read and digest 756 pages of rather small type in one reading day, we had to skip about quite a lot. It proved good fun, and sometimes the best fun came out of Mr. Caldwell's comment on his own stories—each of them is introduced by a short author's note explaining how he happened to do the piece in the first place or something else he considers of interest about it or himself. These are written in a pervasive atmosphere of entire candor. Mr. Caldwell has no more reticence when he talks about himself than he has when he writes about "To-bacco Road."

The subject matter of the stories is extremely varied, which may surprise some who think of the Georgian as a specialist in such matters as incest, murder and the like. There is more humor than one might expect, although to be truthful Mr. Caldwell's humor is not always as successful as his darker prose. There also is a fine feeling for regional peculiarities, out of the South as well as in it. Laid end to end as in "Jackpot," the stories show how strictly Caldwell sticks to his personal formula for such writing; many, perhaps most, of the pieces are elongated anecdotes with neither a whip-snapping ending or one of those laconic closes which leave the reader in the position of the boy holding the bag while his friends allegedly drive the snipe into it.

The essential fact about "Jackpot" is that there is good fun in it, if it is taken in small doses. The essential fact about the author is that he does not take himself too seriously, as witness the prefatory notes mentioned above. Neither does he mind explaining himself: unlike certain writers one could name, he is not concerned with building a past to fit the affluent present. Eliminating the shrewdness which comes from continued contact with the world of the successful writer, Caldwell seems still to be young of spirit and to write that way. Perhaps that is a more essential fact than the other two we mentioned.

tired to New Mexico. On a ridge above Santa Fe he built a rambling Spanish villa, with windows that run from floor to ceiling and a view that takes your breath away.

He spent more money on a water system (it had to be piped up from the valley) and gas and electricity than he did on his house.

Odds Were Against Him

Jovial and good-natured in social gatherings, Dempsey is as serious and hard-working in politics as he was in working his way up. When he started pumping steam into Hatch Act No. 2, the odds here were 10-to-1 that there wasn't a chance for this measure to take out of politics any workers partly paid from federal funds. He fought it out of two committees and onto the House floor and when the final vote was in, the act was passed 243 to 122.

It was the 100th Dempsey-sponsored measure to become a law. With that mark, he arranged for pairing on the measures now before congress and went home to work for election to a seat on the other side of the capitol.

W.P.A. Forgetting Incidents Which Led to Hatch Law
Passage, Calls Story of Two Days Ago Ridiculous

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 29 — When charges were first made of improper use of WPA funds in Kentucky, the WPA management in Washington issued indignant denials, but finally a Senate committee established the truth of the charges and this was one of the principal reasons why the Hatch law was subsequently passed by Congress.

This correspondent a couple days ago published a letter from a prominent man in Oklahoma stating that the WPA had offered a project involving many thousands of dollars to make a survey of the state's resources for defense and that it was regarded as a political racket because most of the information had already been gathered by other governmental agencies.

Today the WPA issued a letter declaring the story to contain "ridiculous and completely untrue statements," and the charge was "completely unsubstantiated," and calling either for proof or a public retraction. This correspondent gladly furnishes today the proof. In his letter, the WPA's acting administrator, Howard Hunter, writes:

"The so-called project which your Oklahoma anonymous correspondent claims to have been initiated by the WPA for the purpose of spending $800,000 in order to effect a survey of the defense resources of the state of Oklahoma is completely non-existent. The only semblance of truth to the story you publish is that a suggestion originated in the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce (not the WPA) that such a survey be made. No promises were ever made by the WPA administrator in Oklahoma and no such project has ever been submitted to the Oklahoma WPA or to the national headquarters in Washington."

"The record shows that the proposal for war resource survey came from Colonel Westbrook of New Orleans, WPA official. The Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce officials were receptive of the project at first, assuming that it would cost only a small sum. A series of meetings was held and Project Writer Mellor of the Oklahoma State WPA was put on duty to drive up the project. The state WPA administrator, Ron Stephens, said he had turned details over to Mellor."

"The project proposal is set down on regular form 301 on six blue sheets with 16 extra insert sheets and card marked Exhibit A. The total amount of the project is $274,236 of which $268,695 was allocated to the sponsor. Doubtless WPA officials can find this in their records."

"The meeting at which Westbrook of the WPA spoke was in the office of the state WPA administrator, Ron Stephens, and was attended by about 25 leading citizens, including representatives of city and state chambers of commerce. One of these men, regarded as exceptionally reliable, says that the project proposal was under the direct supervision of Eula Fullerton, the director of the state WPA and that she told him it would take $800,000. This figure was communicated to city chamber of commerce. Representatives of the state chamber of commerce were notified of this figure and they objected to it as being exorbitant and unnecessary. Prof. Wardell, of State University, was consulted by WPA project writers."

"When objection to the $800,000 figure was made, State WPA Administrator Ron Stephens said 'you can cut it down, but you know that all we have to do is to ask for more.' This statement was heard and reported by excellent authority. It was indicated during these negotiations by newspaper clippings and otherwise, that similar projects were to be initiated in other states."

"I have talked with several unimpeachable sources and their stories all corroborate each other to the effect that $800,000 white collar project for collecting war resources information for Oklahoma was definitely proposed, that it was cut to $274,236 upon protest of Oklahoma business leaders, and finally pigeon-holed altogether because it was considered unnecessary. The fact that the project is 'completely non-existent' is due to local opposition, not to WPA officials."

"That Mr. Stephens was fully aware of project is shown by letter from him to one of the members of commerce officials in question dated June 24, 1940: 'Please find enclosed copy of a letter which I have received from Washington, which is self-explanatory. As soon as this information is available your office will be furnished with same.'"

"The enclosure was from Harriet Root, chief of U. S. information service, written to Mr. Stephens under date of June 18th and reads: 'Congressman Jed Johnson has asked me to request a list of materials required by your department which are available in the United States. We have asked Roy Veatch, secretary interdepartmental committee on strategic materials, department of state, to send you all available information on this subject.'"

"This correspondence relates directly to the project in question. Now, either the WPA in Washington doesn't know what its local offices are doing, or else projects which have the semblance of usefulness are dropped up locally and put through the national office. But had it not been for the alertness of the business men of Oklahoma, the federal government would have wasted at least a quarter of a million dollars in a project utterly useless because it would have duplicated what had already been gathered."

Foss Gets Hearing Friday in Court

Truck Driver Involved in Crash Will Face Judge;
Kraham in Hospital

Emerson Foss, 23, of Williamson, arrested on a charge of third degree assault as the result of an auto crash at the Rondout Creek bridge on Wednesday, had his hearing set down for Friday in police court.

John C. Kraham, 25, of 83 Towns street, who was injured when his car was struck by the truck driven by Foss, was reported in fair condition in the Benet-Hospital this morning. The police report today stated that it was expected that Kraham would be in the hospital about a week. Kraham's car was struck in the rear by the truck driven by Foss and shoved into one of the abutments of the bridge, crushing in the front end of the car. Kraham was removed from his car in an unconscious condition and rushed to the hospital in the Conner ambulance.

Wallace Debut Begins Tonight

Vice Presidential Nominee
Will Accept Party Call
at Des Moines Rally

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 29 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace will make his debut as the No. 1 Democratic national election campaigner here tonight when he formally accepts the party's vice presidential nomination.

Wallace was designated several weeks ago to carry the brunt of the speech-making in the Democratic campaign after President Roosevelt said the international situation would keep him close to Washington.

Democratic party officials said they were preparing for a crowd of 10,000 for the nomination ceremonies. The 30-minute acceptance address is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p. m.

The vice presidential nominee returned to his home city of Des Moines by train last night and was greeted by a crowd.

Rep. Marvin Jones (D-Tex.), chairman of the House agricultural committee, will officially notify the nominee of his selection.

Fleischmanns H. S. Will Open Sept. 3

Open Day Regulations Are Given by Principal

On Tuesday, September 3, Fleischmanns High School will open for the beginning of the fall semester. Final registration will be completed during the forenoon and all classes will be run off during the afternoon. Principal Alexander will be in his office during each afternoon of this week and also on Saturday morning for any student who wishes to see him.

All entering students are urged to bring their birth or baptismal certificate when registering for the first time. Parents entering children in the first grade should endeavor to have this material with them when they come to enter.

It is advisable, says the principal, that entering first grade children be at least five years and six months of age. Older times are too young to comprehend the work and are forced to repeat the grade. This tends to cause them to lose interest in school and many times they have trouble for several grades.

Several new teachers will be on the staff when school opens. Miss Claud Schmidt replaces Miss Schultz in the home-making department. Miss Schmidt graduated from Asbury College at Wilmore, Kentucky, and has taken a year's study at Syracuse and also spent the past summer at the University summer session.

Besides being well prepared in home economics, she possesses considerable talent in music. Miss Jane Riggs, a graduate of Ithaca College, takes the place formerly held by Miss Gaylord in the music department. Miss Riggs ranked near the top of her class and is a solo oboe player of considerable repute.

Her services have been sought while she was in college and even while in high school. This instrument is unusually difficult to play. She is also adept at playing several other instruments. William Mahaney, a graduate of Oswego State Normal, has been secured to teach the fifth and sixth grades and shop. Mr. Mahaney comes with experience. He has taught in a district school near Rome, N. Y.

In addition to his grade school experience he has had considerable shop experience, which would seem to fit him well for this position. It is hoped that eventually the demand for shop will grow enough so that a full time shop teacher may be employed. Mr. Mahaney has attended the summer session at Buffalo State Teachers' College.

Other teachers who will be returning this year are: Miss Lydia Walke, first and second grades.

Miss Marjorie Fay, third and fourth grades.

Mrs. Ethel Alton, seventh and eighth grades.

Gordon O'Reilly, physical education.

Thomas Dight, English and library.

Mrs. Christina Flisser, Latin and mathematics.

Miss Theodora Churchill, history and French.

Mrs. Dorothy Dight, commerce.

Miss Helen Hardt, art.

Crawford Lasher, science.

L. Ray Alexander, supervising principal.

Mettacahonts, Aug. 29—A large crowd attended the Mettacahonts picnic where $312.88 was taken in. Expenses were $205.05, leaving $107.83 clear.
Sunday School Sunday at the Mettacahonts hall at 9:45 o'clock. The hall association will hold a meeting for the election of officers at the hall Friday evening, August 30, at 7:30 o'clock.
The Willing Workers Club will meet with Mrs. Leroy Kelder September 11 at 2:30 o'clock.
Mrs. Kenneth Rider called on Mrs. Leroy Kelder Monday afternoon.
Mrs. Rose Baker is ill at her home.
Mrs. William Harp of Allergville is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William H. Miller and daughter, Viola.
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kelder of Poughkeepsie spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kelder and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kelder and daughter.
Reller Wood has returned to his home in Chester after spending a month with his mother, Mrs. Ella Wood, and son, Arthur.
Roland Vandemark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ranceler Vandemark of Kerhonkson, spent last week with Mrs. Phebe Krom and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Krom.
Mrs. Mary Groat of Kerhonkson spent Sunday with Mrs. Ella Rider and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rider and son.

Washington's Offer
Baker, Ore. (P)—Lee Wright discovered a yellowed placard in an old barn inviting young men to join the army—the army of General George Washington. It read: "To all brave, healthy, able-bodied and well-disposed young men in this neighborhood who have an inclination to join the troops now raising under General Washington for the defense of the United States against the hostile designs of foreign enemies." It offered $60 a year in gold and closed with the words "God Save the United States."

Swiss Locomotive
Andermatt, Switzerland. (P)—One of the biggest locomotives in the world hauls trains through one of the longest tunnels in the world. The locomotive weighs 233 long tons, is 112 feet long, has a 12,000-horse-power motor, and tows trains through the 9-mile St. Gotthard tunnel in the Alps.

Studebakers for 1941 Are Shown at The World's Fair

Among the 2,000 dealers, salesmen and their wives and lady friends at the 1941 showing of the new Studebakers for the coming year, yesterday at the World's Fair in New York, were Alfred F. Doyle of Kingston and Chet Osterhoudt, a member of his sales staff, also Joseph P. Beichert of the Port Ewen Garage. Besides the showing of the new cars in the President, Commander and Champion models made by the concern, there was a speaking program with addresses by Harvey D. Gibson, chairman of the board of the New York World's Fair, C. C. Fletcher, sales manager of Studebaker Corporation and Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker Corporation. Mr. Gibson gave the address of welcome to the assemblage in the open air theatre of The American Jubilee, where the regular performance of the spectacular patriotic extravaganza, dealing with American history was enjoyed at the conclusion. The president's message by Paul G. Hoffman struck a patriotic note when he pledged the cooperation of Studebaker to the government in these times of war threats. "Studebaker is ready to answer the call in manpower and with equipment should the emergency arise," he said. He added that although the concern will participate in the defense program, work will be laid out so that there will be no halt in automobile production.

Studebaker hopes to put 151,000 cars on the market in 1941, he said, urging the salesmen to aid in the campaign for prosperity by being active in demonstrating their line of cars.

In his address, Studebaker's sales manager, C. S. Fletcher, predicted a boom in '41 for industry, and estimated that automobiles would be in demand. He elaborated on the new features of the Studebaker models and intimated that they would be the most popular makes among the cars in their price field. His advertising campaign will be an extensive one on which more than a million dollars will be spent throughout the nation.

Will Represent County

Lonoke, Ark., Aug. 29 (AP)—Jim Lee Howell, the pass snagging end of the New York Giants' pro football team, will represent Lonoke county in the Arkansas legislature next year. The 26-year-old Howell, who makes his home here with his parents, won the Democratic nomination as representative in yesterday's primary while he was in the Giant training camp at Orangeburg, N. Y. He defeated Harry Griffin of Carlisle 2,438 to 2,300. Democratic nomination is tantamount to election.

Salt is being used as a stabilizer in the building of airport runways in Canada.

REFUGEES SLEEP IN SHIP'S BRIG

Sleeping quarters were hard to find on the army transport American Legion, which arrived in New York after a perilous voyage with refugees from Europe's war. But these American girls—members of a skating team which six months ago performed for Adolf Hitler in Berlin—seemed happy enough to have found quarters in the ship's lockup. Two Big Concerns Are Indicted on Conspiracy Count

Corning Glass Works and General Electric Accused of Trying to Corner Light Bulb Sales

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Corning Glass Works and the General Electric Company, named in a federal indictment as conspiring to monopolize this country's supply of electric light bulbs, asserted today they looked forward to "complete confidence" to a court determination of the matter. In an indictment handed up yesterday, the companies, two foreign concerns and six individuals were accused of violating the Sherman anti-trust act and the Wilson tariff act through a patent agreement which gave the two American firms a monopoly in this country.

It was charged that an agreement, to run for 10 years, was reached in 1936 by which Corning was to have the benefit of all American patents owned by the N. V. Philips Gloeilampenfabrieken, a Dutch company, for $15,000 to $25,000 annually. Half the amount, the indictment charged, was to be paid by General Electric. Corning and General Electric produce all the glass envelopes which go into the making of electric lamps in this country, the indictment said. According to the indictment, the unlawful part of the agreement was a provision under which the Philips organization undertook not to export the bulbs or tubes into the United States or to any country north of Panama.

Statements Issued Philip D. Reed, chairman of the board of General Electric, and John Lord O'Brien, counsel for Corning, issued statements in which it was declared their companies had acted in good faith and without improper intentions in concluding the agreement. They said the charges would be contested in court.

O'Brien asserted that since 1921 the cost of the envelopes used in a typical lamp had decreased from three cents to three-quarters of a cent. He added that in its peak year, 1926, the Dutch concern had sent to this country only about five per cent of the glass bulbs used.

They're Mosquito Proof

Berlin, Aug. 29 (AP)—A mass test by 200 shapely legs marked a German industrial innovation—mosquito proof stockings—the testers said today. The test just has been finished by a hundred frauleins who went out to Wannsee, Berlin's vacation playground, where mosquitoes have been chewing for years on German calves. They said even the biggest mosquito was baffled.

Complaints Are Free

Mexico City, Aug. 29 (AP)—Any Mexican citizen who has a complaint against the administration of President Cardenas can get it off his chest in a 20-word telegram without charge, the president's office announced today. Telegraph service in Mexico is a government monopoly.

Madeira Island, popular British winter haven 600 miles southwest of Gibraltar, has an area equal to that of the city of New York—310 square miles.

Nicotine-Free Tobacco Is Developed in Kentucky

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 29 (AP)—A type of tobacco that looks, smells and tastes like burley but is almost completely free from nicotine has been developed by the Kentucky agricultural experiment station here.

The new type, according to the chemistry department of the University of Kentucky, with which the experiment is connected, contains on the average only about .02 of 1 per cent nicotine.

Ordinary burley, the department reported, contains about 2 per cent while dark tobacco such as that grown in western Kentucky averages from 3 to 4 per cent and runs as high as 7 per cent.

The development of this low-nicotine leaf was accomplished by plant breeding and the crossing of types of tobacco in experiments begun in 1935 under direction of Dr. W. D. Valleau, the station's plant pathologist.

MEMORY OF THE MOON

by Jeanne Bowman

Chapter 12 Barbecue

FROM boxes the delighted Dolores brought riding breeches of twill; boots and sombrero; and a silk shirt of sapphire blue with a golden yellow kerchief for her throat.

"El Cabrillo colors," Dolores explained.

Constance tried to stifle her thoroughly feminine love of clothes. Was Pedro trying to put her so deeply in his favor that she would agree to sell?

But when she was dressed, she whirled before the mirror and was pleased with what she saw. Meg had gauged her measurements accurately; even the boots fit smoothly.

"I look like a colored poster in front of a dime theater," she laughed, and went out to find Pedro waiting for her.

"Muchisimas gracias," she sang out, and bowed low before Pedro.

"My word, the gal speaks Spanish," chuckled Pedro. "Now turn around and look at Pancho. He's waiting a word of approval."

Constance caught her lower lip between her teeth as Julian, festively attired, appeared around the corner of the house leading a beautiful palomino, his coat pale golden tan, his main and tail a creamy white.

"Pancho the beautiful," cried Constance and ran toward the horse, unaware of the cries of warning from Julian, Taylor and a few guests who were drawing near.

"Madre de Dios," murmured Julian fervently, as Pancho, after one started, head-tossing neigh and swift baring of teeth, dropped his head to nuzzle the sapphire blue shoulder.

And—"Holy mackerel," sighed Pedro, who had sprang across the path, white of face.

"That settles it," announced Mrs. MacKelvey. "The girl may be a throwback, but she's a Cabrillo as well."

Constance looked up from her caressing of Pancho, to find—"I'm polygot—no, Juliana, don't hold him, I can mount, now watch—"

Pancho made a full swing, but Constance had one foot in the stirrup and by the time he was around she was seated, flushed laughing, then sobered by the look on Pedro's face.

"Cabrillo," he agreed, and Meg, who had been in the background, anxiously addressing her patron Saint, murmured "That needn't make you a piebald mule."

For a moment the two stared angrily at each other. "Trry to remember," burred Meg, "that history teaches us the Irish are half Spanish; remember the Moors with their high, fine steppin' horses brought us a love of horse flesh. And above all, Peter me lad, don't be a jackass."

Pedro grinned and finding his horse, mounted and rode up to Constance.

"We'll wait for introductions until we reach the grove," he told Constance. "I think the cavalcade's ready. You, as a Cabrillo, should lead the parade alone, but I'm not trusting you. You're quite apt to lead us to Maria's."

They rode up and behind them some seventy-five neighbors fell in.

Constance pulled up on a hill and looked about her. Never had she seen such sunshine, such a blue sky, such gold-and-purple hills.

"Pedro," she laughed, "I could love you for planning this."

"Don't, Michael," he returned, soberly. "Don't say that. I can't soperly the night of my life eating barbecued beef."

"Would you, Pedro?" she teased.

"I am afraid—" he stressed the word and she remembered the night of their first meeting, "that I would."

"For the sake of your digestion," she sparred, "I withdraw the statement—oh, Pedro, is that the grove down there?"

Kinship
IT WAS the grove. Live oak shaded it, though the sun was merely golden and not warm. Scented smoke arose from it and men in white aprons and caps moved about tables spread under the trees; tables heaped with baskets of bread and platters of salads; gay confections and tall bottles of wine.

Constance met her neighbors. She was warmed by their reception. She found kinship with these leather-face men and sunburned women. But she wondered at the girls of her age and younger. They didn't like her. They were affable, a few were sincerely glad to meet her, but there were others who looked at her with hostile eyes.

And then she understood and a chill touched her happiness for the moment. She was only one of a dozen who knew the fascination of young Peter Taylor.

"But no child could live with Pedro on one side and Mrs. MacKelvey on the other, and Meg," who had come ponderously up on a horse built upon her own lines, hovering in the background. Constance sat at the head of the table, as the first Don Cabrillo had sat in the early days, dispensing hospitality. In the little arena beyond the grove, she watched the bull-dogging contests, the roping and outlaw riding, and she, the Cabrillo, handed out the awards.

Pedro didn't compete. "He can outstride and outpace any man here," Mrs. MacKelvey whispered, "and he's so good a sportsman to show them up."

The day ended all too soon. Gray fog came up to peer over the rim of the coast range, and the party mounted.

Constance rode with her neighbors. Somewhere behind her, Pedro was riding with a fluffy-haired little blond girl who plainly adored him, and just in front of him a red haired girl, dashing, bold, thought Constance, was darning him to race.

Pedro accepted the dare. Stuffy, holding Pancho in with all of her strength, Constance watched the race, contemptuous and a little angry, while Pedro, "made a fool of himself," she thought. Didn't he know that girl wanted him to catch the reins of her horse and draw her close; couldn't he see?

Of course! Mrs. MacKelvey rode up. "Why don't you come on home with me now," she suggested. "Pancho's fresh. We can take a short cut and be there in an hour."

Constance welcomed this chance. She said goodbye to her guests at crossstalls, and, conscious of Peter sitting motionless on his horse watching her, rode away with Mrs. MacKelvey.

Once she looked back. Peter had wheeled away from the girl with the red hair and was riding back to El Cabrillo alone. Constance wondered why she felt so triumphant. Pedro really meant nothing to her . . . permanently.

"Solid Shoulder"
T HE MacKelvey ranch lay behind the first range of mountains and was free of heavy fog. Constance's first impression was of pristine neatness; of acres confined into proper sections by white fences; of white barns set precisely in their lots. Even the cows gave the impression of impeccable grooming.

"They are groomed," Mrs. MacKelvey affirmed. "They are washed and brushed before each milking."

It was milking time, and Constance was led through vast white caverns with spotlessly clean cement floors. No picturesque milkers squatted on three-legged stools; the milkers were electric, operated by remote control in the hands of one man. And the milk traveled by tube to a pipe which ran through the barns to a depot, where it poured into cans on wheeled flats, to be rolled to waiting trucks.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

If I Could Change . . . Somehow I've just been wondering what I would like to be if I could be somebody else instead of being me. From bankers to the garbage man, it's really my belief. There isn't any job on earth that doesn't hold some grief. As death puts doctors on the spot; and food brings cooks to shame. And when nice husbands go astray, blonde typists get the blame. Perhaps the postman's job is best. I guess I'd like to be him; Because, regardless of his past, who isn't glad to see him?

—Lyla Myers

Junior evidently didn't appreciate music: The celebrated soprano was doing a solo when Junior said to his mother referring to the conductor of the orchestra:

Junior—Why does that man hit at that woman with a stick?

Mother—He's not hitting at her. Keep quiet.

Junior—Well, then, what's she hollering for?

Mrs. Nuwed (to her husband)—Darling, will you lend me $20, and only give me $10? Then you'll owe me $10, and I'll owe you $10, and we'll be straight.

Old Uncle Ragson Tatters was in his rocking chair on the front porch, rocking dug east and west. Beside him was Windy Wolf, an innocent of 40, rocking north and south. Presently, Ragson said:

Windy, why wear yourself out that way? Rock with the grain and save your strength."

Manager—There are only 20 people in the audience. Wouldn't it be better to give them their money back?

Door-keeper—Impossible—they all had complimentary tickets.

Mrs. Brown had recently acquired a dog and was proudly demonstrating his good points to a friend.

Mrs. Brown—I know he's not what you call a pedigreed dog, but no tramp or beggar can come near the house without his letting us know about it.

Friend—What does he do? Bark the house down?

Mrs. Brown—No; he crawls under the sofa.

They were good neighbors until their dog commenced to chase our chickens, now we discover many things we don't like about them.

It is well to know what things are for:

Pat and Mike were walking by an imposing church edifice in a cathedral city and were duly impressed:

Pat—It beats the devil!

Mike—that's the intention.

Phillips Reunion
Was Held Sunday

The second annual reunion of the Phillips family was held at "The Pines" and nearby Glenford Church Hall on Sunday, August 25. Approximately 100 relatives and friends attended, some having traveled 150 miles to spend a friendly holiday.

At 10:30 cars began arriving at the Pines and at 12:30 the woods began to ring with laughter and merry making. By 1 o'clock several long tables were filled with good things to eat for an out-door feast.

After dinner the families and friends went to the Glenford Hall for a business meeting and entertainment including a picture exhibition. There was an election of officers and reports from several committees.

At the close, and as the people left the hall, cameras began clicking and continued for some time after.

The next meeting is to be held at Glenford Hall and "The Pines" on August 24, 1941. Relatives and friends were from Schenectady, Oneonta, Cornwall, White Plains, Middletown, Woodstock, Ashokan, Ellenville, Hudson, West Hurley, Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Springville, Mass., Bradford, Essex, New Britain, Hartford, Conn., and Williamsburg, Va.

Birthday Party
Helene, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Herman L. Katz, celebrated her fifth birthday on Monday afternoon with a party at the family home, 316 Main street. The afternoon was spent in playing games and refreshments were served. Among those present at the birthday event were Beverly Wetherbee, Donald Kinch, Donald Schick, Suzanne Cohen, Charles Levine, Virginia Orr, Joyce Kaplan, Maxine Adner and Robert Rider.

Observe Anniversary
A most pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. DeVal of 85 Main street, Wednesday, when they celebrated their wedding anniversary. Among the refreshments enjoyed was the large anniversary cake given to the happy couple by Mrs. H. Collins of Woodstock. During the evening games were enjoyed, also musical selections. Mr. and Mrs. DeVal received many well wishes for many happy anniversaries.

O'Meara Engagement
Mrs. Mark O'Meara of 110 Maiden Lane has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Margaret Mary O'Meara, to Andrew J. Schroeder, son of Mrs. Henry J. Schroeder of Saugerties. The wedding will take place early in September.

Horace Britt at Benefit Concert

Those who attend the concert for the benefit of the Benedictine Hospital at the Kingston High School Auditorium on September 13 will be privileged to hear one of the great cello players of the day, Horace Britt. Mr. Britt, who was born in Antwerp, Belgium, studied at the Paris Conservatory of Music (France), winning his first prize for cello playing at the age of 16.

He came to this country in 1904 to join the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under Theodore Thomas. He has played with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, and for 10 years he was first cellist with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. Horace Britt was a member of the Misha Elman String Quartet. Also he has traveled in Europe and South America as a soloist.

Mr. Britt is an artist who brings from his peerless instrument, music that thrills and inspires with its beauty and richness and interpretation of the masters of musical composition.

Maverick Concert Scheduled for Sunday

Sunday's program for the Maverick summer concerts in Woodstock will feature the compositions of Beethoven, Brahms and Balazs, played by the string quartet, Frederick Balazs, first violin; Clifford Richter, second violin; Leon Lendar, viola, and George Finkle, cello, with William Ames as pianist.

Stewart-Grimes

The wedding of Miss Mary F. Grimes, daughter of Joseph P. Grimes and the late Mrs. Grimes, of 1106 Park avenue, Hoboken, and formerly of Kingston, to Harry J. Stewart, son of Mrs. Thomas Stewart and the late Mr. Stewart, also of Hoboken, formerly of Seattle, Wash., took place on Saturday morning last at 9 o'clock with a nuptial Mass in Our Lady of Grace Church, Hoboken, N. J. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis X. Coyle. During the Mass William Flusk sang "Ave Maria." "Mother at Your Feet Is Kneeling," "Lord I Am Not Worthy," and "Thanks Be to God." The altar and church were decorated with pompons, baby-breath and potted palms. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white illusion over satin with a tight fitting bodice, long sleeves and a long train. This gown was designed especially for the bride. Her finger-ring veil fell from a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a prayer book which belonged to her late mother. It was adorned with white orchids and orange blossoms as markers.

Miss Geraldine Grimes, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue marquisette with inserts of lace made similar to the bride's. She also carried a prayer book, adorned with pink orchids and pink forget-me-nots as markers. Her hat was blue net and horsehair.

The best man was Edward Pedersen of North Bergen, N. J., formerly of Seattle. Joseph A. Grimes, brother of the bride, of Union City, N. J., and Thomas Hanley, of Jersey City, cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception for 50 people took place after the ceremony at Meyer's Hotel, Hoboken. Miss Ann Grimes, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Stewart, mother of the groom, assisted the bridal party in receiving the guests at the reception. Miss Grimes wore a gown of black sheer crepe, with a large black felt hat and lace gloves. Her corsage was of white orchids. Mrs. Stewart wore a gown of blue sheer crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of purple orchids.

Later in the day the couple left on a wedding trip to Cape Cod and Maine. When they return they will live in Weehawken Terrace, N. J. For traveling the bride wore a gown of black with accents of white, and accessories of black. Her corsage was of orchids.

Relatives and friends from Connecticut, Washington and New Jersey attended the reception.

Mr. Stewart is an accountant for the New York Telephone Company in its laboratories. Miss Grimes also was affiliated with the telephone company in its laboratories office.

Sears-Hittle

Miss Vera L. Hittle of Creston, Ia., and H. Clifford Sears, formerly of Kingston, were united in marriage Monday, August 26, at the home of the bride. Both are members of the faculty at the high school in Great Neck, L. I. The groom is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1921, and his name (Buck Sears) stands out prominently in the athletic his-

SHOULD PRIVATE SECRETARY KNOCK WHEN ENTERING HER EMPLOYER'S OFFICE?

Emily Post Answers That This Practice Is Unusual and Impractical

To a secretary who asks if it is necessary that she knock every time she goes into her employer's private office, I should say that it would be not only a very unusual exaction, but an impractical one. A man who is busy would certainly find it much more distracting to be interrupted in order to answer "Come in" than to have his secretary walk in quietly, do whatever she has to do, and then go out again. I doubt very much if he were occupied that he would even know that she had come and gone unless she had been obliged to ask him a question before leaving. In fact, should any one see her knocking, it would look very strange.

The letter asking me what I think about this procedure also asks whether this same answer would hold true in the case of another executive's office to which she happens to go in the course of business. This answer depends somewhat upon whether she is taking a message that requires an immediate answer, or whether she must interrupt the man in order to transact her business. In this case, she might perhaps knock before entering. But if it is an office into which she goes constantly to leave reports, or other inter-departmental papers, she would not knock before entering unless of course she had been told to do so.

Wedding Reception Seating

Dear Mrs. Post: There will be three sit-down tables at my wedding reception. The bride party will not fill one table, and I am wondering who of the others should be seated at this table. I think the parents of the bride and groom should be considered before any one else, but mother feels that this may seem impolite so far as she and father are concerned. And yet, if they may not sit at this table, the groom's mother and father can't very well sit there either, since I believe they are always seated at the right of the bride's mother and father?

Answer: It would be much better to ask your own and the groom's friends to sit at the table—friends who would have been chosen as attendants had your list been longer would be your obvious choice. The parents should then be seated together at another table.

Holding the Bouquet

Dear Mrs. Post: Does the bride carry her bouquet under or on top of the long section of her veil that hangs down in front?

Answer: The veil only hangs to the bouquet. (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad however to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "A Small Wedding." Be sure to send a three-cent stamp ed, self-addressed envelope with your request to Mrs. Post, in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y.

Australian Wool for U. S. A.

Sydney, Australia.—Satisfaction is expressed at the report that the United States Defense Commission is negotiating with Great Britain for large quantities of Australian wool for use in the manufacture of army and navy uniforms. With the elimination of markets, because of the spread of the war, considerable carry-over of stocks was anticipated, but the purchase by America has ensured a continued demand for wool.

Boiceville Reunion
Those attending the Boiceville reunion on Labor Day, in the grove there, will be able to purchase their lunches at a cafeteria conducted by the Ladies' Aid of the Shokan Church.

SMART, BUTTON-YOKE STYLE

MARIAN MARTIN

PATTERN 9508

Introducing—your trim, tailored woolen to start off the fall season—and isn't it handsome? There's news interest most everywhere you look in Pattern 9508, by Marian Martin. Best of all, it's so easy to make with the Sewing Instructor's aid. These big patch pockets are optional but full of fashion importance—they serve to play up the slenderness of the simple skirt. But the yoke takes the spotlight. It's shaped in smart points and has an utterly new and delightful touch in a pointed, double-buttoned tab that fastens the high neckline. Have long or short sleeves...add a gay buckle to the belt...and choose a soft, tweed or monotone for this tailored newcomer.

Pattern 9508 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 2½ yards 54 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and PATTERN NUMBER.

Your Fashion Future is in the new MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN BOOK...just off the press! A brilliant forecast of Fall and Winter, with stunning costumes for every age and type. There are pages of "good black dresses"...a gay "party lines" for evening...a college wardrobe line-up...a youngster school and dress-up modes. You'll see slimming forty-plus frocks, North and South sports clothes and many tailored suits and dresses. Order your copy NOW. BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. PATTERN FIFTEEN CENTS. Etiquette Your Passport To a Full Social Life

Pass the Introductions Test
First impressions are so important—and what an important part etiquette plays in them!

A warm welcome is given the young bride who, meeting her husband's friends for the first time, appears gracious, well-bred.

Her smiling "How do you do" in response to introductions strikes the right note at once. Unacceptable to people of background are such expressions as "Pleased to meet you," "A pleasure, I'm sure."

And, though a woman ordinarily does not offer her hand at introductions, to do so on special occasions is cordial and correct.

Knowing etiquette is so important to the woman who wishes a popular place in her community. How awkward, for example, if you don't know the right way to reply to an invitation written on a calling card. Just send your own card with "Delighted to come Friday at 4" at the top.

Playing hostess? Entering a room with a guest, let him go first unless you need to show the way.

To be a successful hostess, a popular guest, check up on the etiquette rules in our 32-page booklet. Tells the correct thing for parties, formal and informal; the theatre, country club, motor-ing, games. Has pointers on telephone etiquette.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of ETIQUETTE: THE CORRECT THING TO DO TO KINGSTON Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

PLAYGROUNDS

Final Community Night

The final city-wide Community Night program of the summer to be sponsored by the Department of Recreation will take place at Hasbrouck Park this evening. Each of the nine city parks will collaborate by putting on one act of entertainment.

The opening feature of tonight's program will be a softball game between the Board of Public Works and the Recreation Department which will get under way at 6:30.

First on the stage program will be an instrumental trio of Loughran Park, featuring Ted Barten and Jesse Haggerty and their harmonicas and Paul Dunn on the drums. The High School Park trio consisting of Harry Rowland, Robert McCutcheon and Don Rion will render a few vocal selections.

A tumbling act by Hasbrouck Park will be presented next, with Bob Gill, Kelly Van Buren, Pop-eye Janacek and Les Finley participating.

The Barmann Park act consisting of Finn and Oulton, comedians; Sid Wolven, yodeler, and Don Sillis, tap dancer, will be next on the program.

Following will be a male quartet from Cornell Park, Lester Morton, Hatty Lee, Donald Lawson and Larry Marshall, who will sing a few songs.

Jack Ward and Jack Carter, on clarinet and guitar, respectively, will play a duet with vocals by Jack Carter.

Block Park will present a tap dance by Gloria Koeppen, a Bath-tub trio consisting of Al Thomas, June Coughlin, and Nelson Hamilton. Jack Thomas will sing.

Forsyth Park will conclude the entertainment with a minstrel show featuring Donald Saxe, Ken Dyson, Chris Larios, Jack Ostrander and Fred Yeaple. Jackie Marnell and Joan Bohaltz will sing several songs and Marion Tongue will contribute an acrobatic number to the program.

Awards will also be made to the winners of the City Olympics and the On Wheels Carnival.

Movies will be shown as the final feature of the program. They will include two cartoons: Country Store and Three Lazy Mice, Skiing on Your Feet, Humming Bird Home Life and Songs of the Sun.

The public is invited.

Office to Stay Open

City Treasurer Lester C. Elmendorf said today that his office in the city hall would be kept open Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock for the convenience of taxpayers. Saturday is the last day when school taxes may be paid without a fee. The city treasurer's office closes at noon Saturdays.

Speaks at Cocksackie

City Judge Matthew V. Cahill of this city was the speaker at the Rotary Club meeting in Cocksackie on Wednesday. Judge Cahill spoke on the activities of police court.

In making jelly, remember that rapid boiling rather than long, slow cooking of the sugar and juice, and cooking in small rather than big lots, help to get a bright, clear product.

Sponge Cake, Orange Covered
Coffee

Savory Meat Loaf

1 pound ground veal
½ pound ground smoked ham
¼ cup chopped salt pork
2/3 cup crumbs (bread or cracker)
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons minced onions
2 tablespoons minced parsley
½ cup milk
1/3 cup chili sauce or catsup
2 teaspoons finely chopped green peppers (optional)
2 eggs

Mix ingredients and lightly press into a greased loaf pan. Bake one and one-quarter hours in a moderate oven. Unmold.

Vegetable Relish

1 cup diced cucumbers
¼ cup chopped olives
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickles
1 teaspoon minced onions
½ cup chopped cabbage
¼ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons salad dressing
Mix and chill the ingredients and serve in a small dish.

V.F.W. Takes Stand On Patriotism at Camp

Los Angeles, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars turned their attention at the annual national encampment today to resolutions dealing with patriotism and to the election of new officers. One resolution up for consideration demanded that Congress outlaw the Communist party. Another endorsed military conscription. A third pledged V. F. W. aid in a drive against subversive influences.

Still another proposed that the encampment ask Congress to extend high military honors to the late Gen. William L. Mitchell, especially restoring posthumously his rank of brigadier general, taken from him after he advocated stronger air defenses.

Hawaiian Work Begins
Honolulu, Aug. 29 (P).—To get out of sight and out of worried minds, perhaps, what naval and military experts concede to be Pearl Harbor's most vulnerable spot, the navy announced today that preliminary work had begun on a $5,160,000 project to put the naval fuel supply underground. This, when completed at an estimated cost of $20,000,000, may well be classified as the largest naval underground storage of fuel in the United States.

Warnock Asks Clarification
Berlin, Aug. 29 (P).—William Warnock, Irish charge d'affaires, called at the foreign office today to seek clarification of the incident Monday in which Ireland asserts a German plane bombed an Irish town, killing three girls. Author-

SHOKAN

Shokan, Aug. 28—Several members of the Olive and Hurley O. S. Baptist Society met Tuesday at the local meeting house to clean up the buildings and grounds in anticipation of the association meeting here next month. The interior of the church was thoroughly gone over, windows were washed, the pavilion made ready for tippers, and the grass cut on the grounds. The three-day meeting will take place Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, between the second and third Sundays a September. Visitors from several states are expected for the service, and the preachers will include Elders Collins, Dodson, Ruston, Vaughn and Bellows.

William Abbott of Boston is spending a vacation of two weeks at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Earl C. Elmendorf.

Mrs. Edward Terhune, Jr., a regular summer visitor at Shokan, recently set her diamond and sapphire bracelet somewhere along the lake road.

Clyde Miller of Saugerties was numbered among the business callers in the hub of the reservoir country Tuesday.

Mrs. Hinle, who has been a hospital patient, is again at her home at Beceville.

Thomas Triscoll and Thomas Watters, students at Pershing and Manual high schools, respectively, are among the Brooklyn residents now vacationing in Shokan.

Wednesdays rain, the first good one of the summer, has done wonders for the parched ground and dried-up vegetation.

Elder Arnold Bellows, pastor of the O. S. Baptist Church, recently motored to late Hill, Orange county, where he preached at the annual meeting in the old church.

Rotary Visits

Camp Happyland

Delightful Program Was

Presented by Children

at Health Camp

The Rotary Club made its annual visit to Camp Happyland on Clifton avenue Wednesday, where they enjoyed a sumptuous repast and a delightful program by the girls at the health camp.

The Rotarians were welcomed to Camp Happyland by Miss Katherine M. Murphy county nurse, who explained the work being carried on at the camp which is sponsored by the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health and is financed through the sale of Christmas Seals. Counsellors Katherine Fogarty and Catherine Henebery and Resident Nurse Ruth Lapine were introduced.

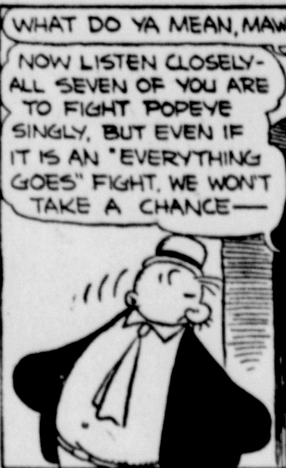

For the Rotary Club, Vice President B. C. Van Inger who presided, congratulated the children and those in charge upon their splendid work.

Fish Scales Called Real Biographies

New Feature Has Important Bearing on Conservation

Solomons, Md., Aug. 29 (AP).—Fish scales were described today as virtual "biographies" telling not only the age, but the origin of fish and how many times they have spawned.

They also tell, more accurately than heretofore possible, whether shad or rock are being "over-fished" to extinction in any given locality.

This new technique, vastly important in conservation, was developed by Dr. R. A. Nesbit of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and David H. Wallace, of the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory here.

Scales of fish are better age indicators than teeth in horses. They show annual growth "rings" much like the annual rings in trees, Wallace explained.

Shaped Like "Y"
These "rings" appear on that portion of the scales shaped like an inverted "Y" which lies underneath the skin. Under microscopes, they show up as blank spaces where new scale was not laid down due to slowed growth during winter.

The scales' first-year rate of growth depends upon such factors in the aquatic environments as food supply, salinity and temperature. By measuring this growth, Wallace can tell whether a fish was born in the Hudson river, off North Carolina, in Chesapeake Bay, or even in what part of the Chesapeake tributaries.

At each spawning the fish reabsorbs the calcium it needs from the outer edge of the scale. This, too, shows up clearly in "scar tissue" in the scale "biography."

By taking certain scales from a number of fish in a commercial catch, biologists can tell how old the majority or fish are at that time. If most of them are young, and have not yet spawned, it indicates such intense fishing that the next year's and following year's supply is threatened.

The studies show about 90 per cent of shad caught in Chesapeake Bay have not spawned but in the Hudson, under conservation, about 40 per cent of the catch is older, larger fish and "shad" are coming back in the Hudson.

TILLSON

Tillson, Aug. 29.—The Reformed Church, the Rev. Benjamin H. Thaden, pastor—Church service at 9:30 a. m.; Sunday School at 10:30 o'clock.

Friends' Church, the Rev. Anson Coutant, pastor—Sunday School at 10 a. m.; church service at 11 o'clock.

The quarterly meeting of the Society of Friends held at the Tillson Church recently was largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hicks of Ridgefield Park, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. H. Taylor and family of Corvallis were callers last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Haines, Gorton Ackert of Poughkeepsie were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Saker Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Longyear of White Plains were guests of Mrs. Richard Demarest from Thursday till Saturday afternoon of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel W. Emerick of West Camp and Mrs. Ardelle DuBois of Saugerties called on the Rev. and Mrs. Enick last Thursday morning and took them to West Camp to spend the day.

Will Devo has set his store at Creek Locks to part with New York and they moved in last week.

Mae Keator has returned from a visit of several weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huebner at Elmhurst, L. I. At present she is staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Taylor at Binnewater.

School opens Tuesday, September 3 with Dean Shoup as principal and Ruth Jansen as assistant.

Mrs. Peter Deyo and Miss Madeline Beach went on the excursion to Albany last week Tuesday. They report 4,500 passengers on board the boat.

Eva and Ruth Ida Dewey are spending the last of their vacation days at Canaan, Conn., while Ernest is visiting friends in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Emerick of Katsbaun and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brewer of Maplewood, N. J., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emerick last week. They all attended the meeting at the Friends' Church Saturday morning and the fair at the Reformed Church in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Campbell and sons, Charles and Bruce, of Trenton, N. J., called Wednesday morning on their uncle and aunt, the Rev. and Mrs. I. P. Emerick. Arthur Schutt of Kingston came with them and remained for a visit.

The annual fair of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church held on the lawn last Saturday was a successful affair and was well attended in spite of the unusually cold weather.

Mrs. Martha Sigrist has been entertaining her brother and his wife from Brooklyn.

Cooks Who Work Mornings Enjoy Summertime Most

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

AP Feature Service Writer
Modern housewives are on the alert these sultry days for dinner menus that almost run themselves.

They watch for foods that enable them to do most of the cooking in the morning; they select foods that require little preparation and cooking attention and they double up on some of the courses. For instance, a summer cook will let a luscious salad do double duty—for both a salad and a dessert course.

Here's a menu that requires only about 30 minutes' oven cooking: Escalloped corn, salmon or meat timbales, fruit sauce and bran grains. Prepare it, put it in the oven and go visiting or do some reading. It's an oven meal, but there's no one around to mind the heat. About 5 minutes before serving time you can take a bowl of salad, a green one, a fruit one or a cottage cheese-vegetable salad out of the refrigerator and lift the rest of the dinner from the oven. Fresh fruit and cookies or melon or gelatin dessert make refreshing top-off.

Jellied Veal Aspic starts on the stove and finishes in the refrigerator. It is nutritious, it's tasty and has leftover possibilities. It's inexpensive, too. Simmer for 5 minutes, 3 cups chopped cooked veal (an inexpensive cut), 2 cups veal stock (or canned broth), 1 teaspoon finely chopped onions, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/3 cup diced celery. Add 2 tablespoons of gelatin which have soaked 5 minutes in 1/3 cup cold stock or water. Stir well and cool. Put the mixture in the refrigerator to thicken a little, then add 1/3 cup chili sauce, 1/2 cup cooked peas or green beans, 1/3 cup sliced cucumbers and 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper (optional). Chill until dinner time.

Draft Proponents Look to House

The nation's first peacetime conscription program in its history. The end came in the Senate after the conscription forces had beaten off one attempt after another to postpone or nullify the draft provisions of the bill.

First, however, the conscriptionists themselves joined in adding some amendments, notably the joint amendments by Senators Russell (D., Ga.) and Overton (D., La.) giving the government power to take over industrial plants for the manufacture of defense materials.

Under its terms, the President would be authorized to direct institution of condemnation proceedings against any manufacturing plant whenever either the secretary of war or the secretary of the navy "determines that any facility is necessary for the national defense and is unable to arrive at an agreement with the owner of such plant or facility for its use in operation" by the war or navy department.

Pending Court Action
The departments would be empowered to take over the plant and operate it pending court action.

Some House members predicted that the "conscription industry" provision would meet strong opposition next week, but they said they anticipated little fight on either of the final changes—the amendment of Senator Adams (D., Colo.) which would extend the draft to 8 per cent to cover guns, ammunition, material and other equipment.

The Adams amendment, however, ran counter to the requests of the administration and defense commission for the suspension of the aircraft and warship profit limitations now effective.

For their suspension, the House measure which the House took up yesterday.

Senators explained, however, that if Congress approved the proposed suspension of the profit limitations, the Adams provision automatically would become inoperative.

Once the Senate had passed the bill, Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.) called up a $5,000,000 House approved defense appropriations bill making it the unfinished business.

Army Is Ready To Mobilize Guard

numbers would be held, and the sequence in which the numbers were drawn would determine the order in which each man was subject to call.

Thus if number 283 happened to be the first drawn in the national drawing, it would mean that the man holding that number in each of the conscription districts was liable for service.

From questionnaire information previously obtained, the local boards would be able to determine the classification of those whose numbers had been drawn. The questionnaires would show employment, dependents and other information.

Those found to be in class 1-A—that is, those whose questionnaires disclosed no apparent reason why they should not be called up—would be notified to report. If the local board found that the man called could not show cause for deferment of training or exemption, he would be given a medical examination and, if he passed that, inducted into army, navy or marine corps.

Limited by Quota
The number of men from any one area, however, would be limited by the quota that district was given. Quotas would vary, and the number of men already in the armed services or National Guard from an area would be deducted from its quota.

The first conscripts would start arriving at army training centers the 40th day after the bill became effective.

Highlights of Draft Bill

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Here are the principal provisions of the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill as approved by the senate:

All males, with minor exceptions, from 21 through 30 years of age would be required to register.

Those registered would become liable for service with the nation's armed forces for 12 months in peace-time, or longer if congress found the national interest imperiled. Aliens who have not filed naturalization papers would escape liability.

The president would be authorized to select in an "impartial manner" from this group men for service. Individuals whose work was deemed essential to the nation and those with dependents could be granted a deferment. Deferment would be mandatory for certain state and federal officials and ministers. Divinity students would be exempted and conscientious objectors assigned to non-combatant or special work.

Those conscripted would be given the same pay and allowances as members of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps. Base pay in the army would be increased from $21 to $30 a month. Service would be limited to the western hemisphere, and not more than 900,000 trainees could be in service at any one time.

Trainees who completed active service would become members of the reserves for 10 years and subject to retraining at intervals.

Selection of trainees would be based on quotas for each state, with credit being given for men already in the armed forces.

All men from 18 through 34 would be given opportunity to enlist voluntarily for the same training and service as those conscripted.

Employers would be required, where possible, to re-employ men who left jobs because of being conscripted.

Provision would be made to prevent evictions and foreclosures for non-payment of debts of men conscripted.

The president would be authorized to establish local boards and appeal boards to classify men registered and pass on applications for deferment and similar matters.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The position of the treasury August 27: Receipts $6,674,225.34; expenditures $25,665,627.36; net balance $2,493,434,676.98; working balance included $1,760,977,573.59; customs receipts for month $20,282,042.34; receipts for fiscal year (July 1) $739,670,227.11; expenditures $1,446,560,784.90; excess of expenditures $706,890,557.79; gross debt $43,894,467,738.78; increase over previous day $635,042.22; gold assets, $20,841,864,699.84.

The royal couple spent last night in their train at a siding in a remote Lancashire spot. Although bombs fell a few miles away, the king and queen spent an undisturbed night.

Traffic Nerves

What makes a person a "Jekyll and Hyde" once he sits in the driver's seat of an automobile? In other words why do persons, who are normal, kind and pleasant on most occasions become regular "Hydes" when they sit behind the wheel of an automobile?

Dr. George H. Mount, a psychologist, recently made "at-the-wheel" tests of drivers' reactions using various gauges and apparatus and has reached the conclusion that "jitters" incidental to motor car operation is caused by the sudden shocks plus irritation that increases as traffic thickens. The sudden shocks arise from failure to make a signal, sudden cutting in front of driver, failure to pick up enough speed in an emergency, and the sudden swerving necessary to avoid a pedestrian.

'Real Acts of Hostility'

But, even as the delegates converged here, Rumania formally accused the Hungarian air force of "real acts of hostility" in air clashes over their border and announced officially she was adopting a policy of "force" to repel any Hungarian incursions.

Hungary countered with charges the Rumanian air force was sending planes on reconnaissance flights over her territory.

Recent incidents on Rumania's border with Soviet Russia also appeared to figure in the situation. Although the German wireless minimized this angle, there was plainly apparent an air of urgency in the suddenness with which today's conference was called and the number of important diplomats attending.

Hungary is demanding restoration of practically everything Rumania took from her as a result of their World War treaty, or approximately five-sixths of Transylvania.

White Sox Eke Out Win Over Bosox; Giants Trip Warneke and Cards by 5-2

Bill Dietrich Hurls 5-Hit Ball for Jimmy Dykes; Two Home Runs Help Giants Get Win

(By The Associated Press)
The only thing missing when Jimmy (do it with mirrors) Dykes opened his new bowling and soda emporium in Philadelphia the other night was for the International Society of Magicians to step up and present him with an engraved card as an honorary member.
If ever a fellow rated it for reaching into hats and pulling out all sorts of surprises, to the red-faced confusion of most of the American League's first division, Jimmy is the lad.
He's been doing it for years, too, out there with his Chicago White Sox. Right now, he's winding up his sixth full season as boss of the Sox, and he stands a good chance to finish in the first division for the fourth time. He's only a game away as a result of his 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox yesterday in the only American League game to get by the rain.

When Jimmy rolls up his sleeves and starts his magic stunts, he has three eye-opening tricks. The first is his almost regular first division finish. Second is the way he and his Sox come along to chill the leaders at the most embarrassing times. This year, the Sox took two straight from Detroit, just about the time the Tigers were fighting to keep Cleveland out of first place, and, on another occasion, knocked off Boston five out of six when the Red Sox were in third place and trying to climb.
Chi Even With Sox
Third, there's the stunt of being in front this year in the season series with every other club in the league, except for the Cleveland Indians and the Red Sox. He's even-up with the Boston now, as a result of yesterday's win, which was turned in by the five-hit elbowing of Bill Dietrich and an eighth-inning run-making double by Larry Rosenthal.

Jimmy doesn't feel at all comfortable about the 8-4 edge the Indians hold over the Sox in games played between the two this season, and he's just waiting for the six games to come with the Tribe.
Over in the National League, the pennant race became a seven-team affair yesterday, to the surprise of no one. The Phillies, who never had a chance anyway, dropped both ends of a doubleheader to Pittsburgh pitchers. Truett Sewell and Joe Rowman, and were eliminated mathematically from the flag chase. Sewell tossed a three-hitter in the opener for a 5-0 win, and Bowman came back with a six-hitter for a 5-2 decision.
The New York Giants climbed back into a tie for third place by trouncing the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-2, largely on homers by Joey Moore and Tony Cuccinello. Dick Erickson's steady twirling gave the Boston Bees an 8-3 edge over the Chicago Cubs, dropping the Cubs into sixth place. The loop's two pace-setters, Cincinnati and Brooklyn, were rained out.

THEY'RE PALS IN STORMY WEATHER

It was a bit damp for these old timers, veterans of many years of golf-campaigning together, as they contemplated the weather at Hershey, Pa., scene of the 1940 Professional Golfers' Association championship tourney. You guessed it, it's Leo Diegel, (left) and Walter Hagen, (right). Hagen wore the full length rain coat. He qualified for the first round but Diegel failed. Between them, they held the P. G. A. title from 1924 through 1929.

Norm Young of Giants Rates As One of Baseball's Best

Polo Grounds Rookie Has Been Sensational With Bill Terry's Team; Has Good Future

One of the sparkling rookies to come up with the major leagues this year has been Norman "Babe" Young of the New York Giants. The 24-year-old youth has been playing first base for the Giants all season, the best it has been played since Manager Bill Terry hung up his glove.

In need of a first sacker last season Skipper Bill Terry got waivers from Washington for Zeke Bonura. Big Zeke from New Orleans, now with "Gabby" Hartnett's Cubs, was quite potent with his bat but too slow afoot on ground balls.

This put Terry in a hole and again in need of a first baseman. Nothing from other clubs was forthcoming so Bill dug up Babe Young from the Southern Association. The rest has been glad tidings for the Terrymen who have found a real star in Babe, the belting first baseman.

So far this year Young has driven in plenty of runs, his mark now around 80 or more. He has hit 14 homers and a bunch of extra-base clouts. His batting average to date is .304. Since the Giants left New York a few weeks ago, Young has driven in at least two runs in his last six games.

Detroit (AP)—Bruce Campbell, Tiger outfielder, thinks improved infields have been one of the reasons for the Yankees' troubles this year.

Recreations to Meet Baltimore Elite Giants Tonight at Stadium

Strong Negro Club of National League Out to Clip Recs

Bob Bush and Bud Barbee Are Tentative Hurlers; Elites Have Colorful Ball Club

Rained out last night the Baltimore Elite Giants, second place in the Negro National League will be at municipal stadium tonight to have another go against Carlisle Husta's Kings-Recreations. Game time is 8 o'clock. All ladies will be admitted at half price. During the last few weeks the club has been passing through some tough stages in closing games to opposition. Newburgh Recs, Harlem Valley State Hospital and the House of David combines have just managed to nip Kingston by close margins. Two of these defeats were by one run, the other, Monday night, by two runs. But the charges of Carlisle Husta go into tonight's top-notch game undaunted. The Recreationists have stepped through a successful crack colored team to date in winning fashion. Kingston has turned back the New York Yankees, the Newark Giants, Hank Bozzi's Mohawk colored Giants and the Brooklyn Royal Giants, some of the finest colored clubs in the east. On this one, the Hustamen stand quite ready for the invasion of the Elite Giants tonight.

Although dropping that 7-5 setback at the stadium Monday night, local fans witnessed Kingston at its peak for the first time this year. It's true that the local club fell down in the latter part of the game but before the last appeared, some spectacular performances came into view. The club as a whole, played together winning style.

Bush Is Ready
Pitching assignments in tonight's game will fall on Bob Bush of Kingston and either Ace Adams or Bud Barbee for the Baltimore team. Bush has been earning in some of the best pitching performances for Kingston despite the fact that he's been tagged with a number of setbacks.

Bush can be rated with the best of them, both in pitching and hitting. The rotund hurler has not only given in some wonderful mound work so far this year but has been hitting along in the field. Bob is currently hitting .379, good enough for any hurler.

The Baltimore Elite Giants, backed with outstanding stars from top to bottom, will surely give the local fans who turnout to the stadium tonight the best baseball of the season. Since the Hustamen have been running wild over other colored clubs, the Elites have been looking forward to this meeting with anticipation.

Played In Chicago

A number of the Baltimore players saw service in the recent East-West classic in Chicago at Wrigley Park when the Eastern team took an 11 to 0 win. Bill Perini, catcher for the Elites, played with Johnny Snow, third baseman and manager of the Baltimore club, was a pitcher. If it had been allowed the entire Giant club could have played with the East. The team is not powerful and colorful.

While the Elite Giants boast of strong hitting combination, information has been received as to the defensive skill of these fast-tapping sepi ball players. The Elites of "Red" Moore at first will make Kingston forget Jimmy Woods, although the latter is a grand player. Norm Hughes at third and Larry Butts at short completes the inner-defense. All of them are die-hards for airtight baseball.

In the outfield Hoskins, Kimbro and Curry are slated to see action. The pitching staff includes Hubert, Ace Adams, Barnes, Williams, Bud Barbee and Moreland. Bill Perkins and Campanello are the receivers with the former expected to get the starting assignment.

With night baseball on its last legs in Kingston for the 1940 season, local officials are expecting the biggest show of the campaign for tonight's test with the strong Baltimore Elite Giants. Despite losing skein Kingston will be tough for the Giants to maul.

Maybe Rose Bowl Games
Chicago, Aug. 29 (P)—Western conference athletic directors were reported today to have approved a proposal to permit Big Ten football champions to compete in Rose Bowl games against title winners of the Pacific coast conference. After Ohio State's championship 20 team fell before California, 13 to 0, the Big Ten banned further participation in the annual year's day classic.

The Dodgers' bat boy, Jackie Omer has been approached many times by fans thinking he was "Pee-Wee" Reese, the club's ace shortstop. All that Jackie is "Aw, nuts."

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Aug. 29 (P)—The word is out that Bill Kern's first West Virginia team is one of those "sleepers." Unless Des Moines gets up that $10,000 guarantee in a hurry, Arturo Godoy will call off his bout with Lee Savold out there. Army, Navy and many other colleges have been trying to get Cag Coach Bill Anderson away from lower Merion High at Ardmore, Pa. . . . Our Hershey spies report Walter Hagen won't go to bed until he has heard whether the Tigers won or lost, but then old Walter would never go to bed anyway. . . . Here's a laff: New York writers are calling the Cleveland cry babies "Half Vitts."

Advertising Dept.
A pro football game to be played at Hershey, Pa., next week, is being advertised as follows: "Brooklyn Dodgers, owned by Dan Topping, recently wed to Sonja Henie, vs. Jersey City Giants, farm team for the New York Giants."

Don't let them tell you Lou Raymond isn't putting New Greaves back on the map as one of the best fight towns in the country. Scalzo-Perrin drew 9,957 customers and a $15,446 gate. . . . Northwestern Prep School coaches came from far and near to see the Washington Redskins play in Seattle the other night. . . . Correction: Young Bill Hayes wants to broadcast that he's getting $165 for two weeks to umpire in the Wichita semi-pro tournament (not a buck a game as we reported); also that he is more a multi-millionaire than this agent which punts him in the Z class. . . . O. K. Bill, and sorry you're not a plutocrat, as well as a darned good umpire.

Today's Guest Star
Tom Meany, New York P. M.: "Joe E. Brown is exercising at the Dodger baseball school at Nutley, N. J. . . . Somehow it all seems to fit in—a baseball school run by the Dodgers, Joe E. Brown and the happy name of Nutley, N. J."

Personals: Ken Overlin took his half of the middleweight title to Milwaukee to visit at the Beer City Athletic Club. . . . Although Frank Hood, Rockhurst College coach, finished third in the all-star coaches' poll, he'll not be on hand at Chicago tonight. Recently married, he'll use the dough to furnish his house. . . . Poor Monty Stratton says his wooden leg is black and blue from being hit by one of Luke Appling's liners. . . . Old Abe Attell (who was behind one of the biggest in history during the 1919 World's Series) is opening a restaurant to be known as the "Eight Ball."

Jack Dempsey's auto-biography, "Round by Round," will be out September 16.

Ho, Hum
Jean Borotra, new French sports czar, has banned all pro sports except cycling. . . . Well, we can remember when lawn tennis powers said none of the pros could play in their tournaments.

Popularity Contest

Wes Ferrell needn't to think he's the only popular member of the famous baseball clan. His brother, George (Old Faithful) Ferrell, has just been voted the most popular member of the Richmond (Va.) Colts for 1940.

McCormick Is Pointing

For Round-Tripper Mark

When Frank McCormick shoots for the rafters in Pittsburgh or Vince DiMaggio aims for the horizon in Cincinnati, it's a move in the battle for the 1940 National League All-Around Homer-Hitting championship.

The Redies first-baseman and the Pirate fly-chaser have hit homers in 7 National League parks so far this year. Oddly enough the one each one has missed is the home orchard of his rival. Vince was the first to register his 7th, but on the recent Eastern trip of the Reds, McCormick belted homers at the Polo Grounds and the Bee Hive, ball parks which had escaped his attention on his first two Eastern trips.

Big Frank thus moved into a tie with DiMaggio August 12 and 13 he gets a chance to make the circuit complete when the McKechnie men visit Pirate land. The Pirates won't invade Cincy until September 4, so Vince must wait until then for his opportunity.

Last Two Races

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 29 (P)—With the final result in doubt, ten crews sailed today in the last two races of a series of eight for the Sears Cup and the national junior sailing championship. The Eastern Yacht Club of Marblehead clung to its lead in the point standing yesterday by finishing fifth in the sixth race to boost its total to 45%.

You grow up to full stature as a major leaguer when you become a "Ten-Year-Man" and receive your Silver Lifetime Pass as token of a decade of service, 10 years of 170 playing days each. Lonnie Warneke celebrated his own Ten-Year-Day August 4 by hanging up his 9th win of the year. The Giants in their own Polo Grounds were the guests at the Humming Red-Bird's "coming-of-age" party.

Javelin Dangerous

Eugene, Ore. (P)—Colonel Bill Hayward, veteran Olympic games track coach, reflected upon his long career as a mentor and the dangerous of all athletic implements.

Golf Field Is Down To 16 Contestants As Players Fall Out

Wood, Demaret, Cooper, Thompson Bow; Ralph Gudahl Does 6 Under Par for Course

Hershey, Pa., Aug. 29 (P)—The boys with the power and the class were in control of the 1940 professional golf championship tournament today as the field narrowed to 16 contestants.

Eighteen-hole matches yesterday cut down three-fourths of the 64 qualifiers. The survivors, excepting little Paul Runyan, represent the longest hitters in golf.

Runyan is the exception, as usual, for "Little Poison" has learned to use his short clubs so well he manages to get around with the blasters, and takes them into camp.

The only top-notchers who failed to get by yesterday were Craig Wood, golf's most consistent hard-luck player, and Jimmy Demaret. Also knocked out were Jimmy Thompson and Harry Cooper.

For the first time in his eventful career, Ralph Gudahl, twice open champion, had the opportunity to play a 36-hole match in the P. G. A. Always before, he lost in one of the shorter distance contests, but his six under par exhibitions yesterday against two competitors were just about the best golf of the day.

A pair of hardy perennials, Walter Hagen, five-time P. G. A. list, and Gene Sarazen, who won it three times, kicked the old adage of youth-being-served out the window in fine style. Both hustled around in just about par.

Henry Picard, trying for a repeat on his home course, takes on Sarazen today. Picard has been eight under par for 50 holes he played this week, while Sarazen has been three over for 68 holes.

Dick Metz, the medalist at 140, up against former open champion Byron Nelson, rode a streak that had him 12 under par for the week.

Hagen, confronted by Harold (Jug) McSpaden, has been only one over par in his matches, but went six over in his qualifying tests.

In the other matches, big Ed Dudley plays Runyan; Jimmy Hines meets Snead; Al Brosch has a nifty assignment in little Ben Hogan; Gudahl has Jim Foulis, conqueror of Craig Wood, to contend with, and the two "unknowns" of the top flight, Art Clarke of Uniontown, Pa., and Eddie Kirk of Detroit, tangle.

Leo Durocher Says Reds Aren't Sure Of Any Flag Yet

Fiery Dodger Leader Sees His Club as Pest for Cincy Team Before Season Is Over

Cincinnati, Aug. 29 (P)—Just as a cheering word to the folks back home, Leo Durocher firmly announced today that the Cincinnati Reds may have a 7½-game lead over his Dodgers, but "nobody's concedin' nothin'!"

Ambushed in his hotel room and raked with a cross-fire of "are the Dodgers still in there pitching or are they building for next year already?" the fiery manager of the boys from Brooklyn snapped back: "This is still 1940 as far as I've heard. You Cincinnati fans got a right to your opinions and I got a right to mine and I say you got to play the season out. I'm not concedin' you the pennant and maybe you're goin' to get the surprise of your lives yet!"

The remarks are pertinent because the Dodgers and Reds open a delayed, semi-crucial two-game series today, providing the Ohio Valley weather improves.

Ironie sidelights on the celebrated Giants-Dodgers feud: Fred Fitzsimmons, Brooklyn's No. 1 pitcher, was a Giants' hero for his first 10 years in the National League. Bill Lohman, Giants' pitcher and first National League ace to register his 4th shutout of the 1940 season, was born in Brooklyn.

Bowlers Held Meeting

The first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Mercantile Bowling League was held last night at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock. At this meeting the representatives of 17 teams were present. Important matters relative to the welfare of the league were discussed and due to the importance of these matters to the rest of the members of the league who were not present at the meeting last night it was decided to hold another meeting on Wednesday evening, September 4, at 8 o'clock. All members of the Y. M. C. A. Mercantile League of last year and anyone wishing to place a team in the league this year, are requested to be present at the meeting next Wednesday night.

Gardner to Coach

Burlington, Vt., Aug. 29 (P)—The Vermont State team in the third annual amateur baseball championships at Havana, September 15-30, will be handled by Larry Gardner, University of Vermont baseball coach. His appointment was announced last night. Teams have been entered also by Puerto Rico, Nicaragua, Hawaii and Canada, though it was believed the Canadian club might not participate because of the European war.

Pro Gridders Meet College All-Stars In Chicago Tonight

Both Clubs Even So Far in Six-Game Series; Wide Open Game Is Predicted if Gridiron Is Dry

Chicago, Aug. 29 (P)—Two of the nation's greatest collections of football stars will be looking for a break tonight—a break in the deadlock existing between the collegians and the professional champions after six all star meetings.

The 1940 crop of college all stars and Green Bay, the professional champions, clash in the seventh annual charity game at Soldier Field tonight, with a record crowd of 85,000 expected.

Since 1934, when the series was started by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., the Collegians and the Pros each have won two games, lost two and tied two. Last year the New York Giants squared matters for the Pros by defeating the All Stars 9 to 0.

Showers were forecast for tonight, but in the event of dry footing, observers predicted a wide open game replete with running and passing.

Outstanding for Green Bay is its stellar passing combination of Arnie Herber to Don Hutson or Cecil Isbell. The All Stars offer such passing experts as Nile Kinnick of Iowa, Kenny Washington of UCLA and Ken Heineman of Texas Mines.

Central Bowlers Will Meet Tonight

First Meeting of 1940-41 Year Set for 8 P. M.

This evening at 8 o'clock the first meeting of the Central Recreation Bowling League will be held at the Central Recreation alleys. Last year the loop was a 12-team circuit, with Crystal Gardens defeating the Frank and Charles squad in a roll off for the title.

Other teams in the 1939 league were A. & P., Mickey's Barber Shop, Nick's Tonsorial, Kaplan Furniture, General Electric, Hotel Ulster, Morgan Linen and J. Y. A.

Officers of the league are Mac Tiano, president; Charlie Marrello, vice-president; Dick Dulin, secretary, and Steve Woydon, treasurer.

Emerick's Ladies Meet

Emerick's Ladies will hold a short meeting, Friday evening, 8 o'clock, at Emerick's alleys. The meeting will be for all members and ladies interested in bowling and for ones who would like to join at this time. If it is impossible to attend the session, entrants may leave entry fee at the alleys with Mr. and Mrs. Emerick by Friday evening. All plans for the league are to be adopted as soon as possible.

Patman Says Some Big Business Men Want Appeasement

Texas Democrat Predicts 'Deliberate Attempt' to Force Program Toward Hitler

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Representative Patman (D-Tex.) told the Dies committee today he believed there was "a deliberate attempt" on the part of certain "big business" groups in this country to force adoption of an appeasement program toward Hitler.

The Texan, urging the committee to investigate what he said was "an unholy alliance" between certain parts of "big business" and the distribution of Nazi propaganda in this country was told by Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) that committee agents already were doing so but had "found nothing so far."

Patman testified at a hearing accorded him to enable him to submit evidence which he said would substantiate his allegations that Carl Byoir, New York publicity man and army reserve officer, had been employed as a Nazi propagandist.

Byoir denied the charges and a subcommittee of the Dies committee headed by Rep. Dempsey (D-N. M.) recently exonerated Byoir, but Patman demanded an opportunity to present his case.

The justice department also exonerated Byoir after an FBI investigation.

Patman told the committee that Byoir was once employed by the German tourist information service, and was the highest paid representative of the German government in this country. He said Byoir was paid $108,000 over an 18-month period shortly after Hitler came to power and in return distributed Nazi propaganda "including anti-Semitic and church and state propaganda."

Seated nearby, Byoir, who has said Patman's charges were in retaliation for Byoir's aid in defeating the Patman chain store tax bill, shook his head in negation of the testimony.

Use Airplane to Locate Center of Old Civilization

How the modern airplane has taken man on a flight into time—going back 6,000 years in one or two hours—is related by Dr. Erich F. Schmidt, of the University of Chicago's Oriental Institute. Dr. Schmidt made many such flights in Iran, where he was field director of an archeological expedition. Through aerial observation, he explained, it was possible to find rich areas never before penetrated—centers of ancient civilization.

"From the air," declared Dr. Schmidt, "we have been able to follow routes followed thousands of years ago by caravans. We have found mounds covering ancient cities. Some of these places would have required weeks or months to locate by an overland route. They were found in a few hours by air."

In one venture, Dr. Schmidt said, aerial archeologists flew for 2½ hours to find the route of an ancient overland caravan. It took three weeks of overland tracking to follow this route after it was discovered by air, but it led to a sanctuary of the Assyrian empire period of about 800 B. C. As a result there were uncovered many valuable objects relating to the period.

"The exploration of this place," said Dr. Schmidt, "gave a remarkable picture of the mixture in this remote place of the sophisticated Assyrian and the rough mountain cultures."

Arsenic From Tobacco

Dr. Edwin E. Barksdale of Danville, Va., advises persons unusually sensitive to arsenic not to smoke. Some persons, he reports, develop itching and inflammation of the skin if they absorb any appreciable amount of arsenic. After studying several persons afflicted in this way, he discovered they got their arsenic from tobacco, and could recommend no cure except to stop smoking. The arsenic in tobacco comes from the arsenate of lead with which farmers spray the growing plant to prevent horn worms from destroying it. Dr. Barksdale reported. No other insecticide serves the farmer's purpose so well, he said, because the arsenate of lead has the property of adhering to the tobacco leaf. There is no known way of removing the arsenate of lead during the curing or manufacturing processes, he added. But only the hypersensitive and allergic suffer.

Last Reservations

Tonight is the last to make reservations for Rapid Hose Fire Co. outing to be held Sunday at Walton's Grove on Lucas avenue. Those in charge of accepting reservations are President Gus Bunse, Richard Hinkley and Henry Kelsch.

The nation's largest inland cotton market, at Memphis, Tenn., handled a record 3,619,579 bales last year.

George McManus, 35 Persons Suffer Big Time Gambler, Food Poisoning at Dies in Sea Girt Platt Clove Camp

Taste for Chance

Broadway legend has it that McManus even from kneepants days acquired a taste for chance, began as a runner for gambling establishments in Harlem, and was so successful that he opened his own chain—risking thousands on the flip of a card or the roll of dice.

He was arrested in connection with the Rothstein murder in 1928. The notorious gambler had stumbled out of a theatrical district hotel, mortally shot, and died without disclosing his assailant.

A coat left in the hotel room was identified as that of McManus. The state attempted to prove that McManus lured Rothstein into the hotel and shot him during a dispute over a gambling debt involving several hundred thousand dollars.

McManus was acquitted on December 5, 1929, less than three weeks after his arrest.

Arrested at Intervals

At intervals from the time of the Rothstein trial until 1934, McManus and his brother, Stephen, former police lieutenant, were arrested in raids on alleged betting establishments, some of which operated out of New Jersey. They were invariably released because of insufficient evidence.

Surviving him are his widow, Margaret Mulvihill McManus, four brothers, and two sisters.

His first wife was killed ten years ago when an automobile struck her as she was hurrying to purchase some medicine for McManus who was critically ill of pneumonia.

Federal Agents Reported Active

Search Is Said to Hinge Upon Mail Robbery

It was said today that federal men were in Kingston this week checking garage and auto repair shops to ascertain if an automobile carrying New Jersey license plates had been repaired here recently. The result of the investigation was not made public. At police headquarters here it was said this afternoon that they had no word of G-men being in the city.

The search here is said to have followed the holdup of a New York Central train at the 225th street station in New York city last Friday when six men armed with guns halted the train and escaped with a mail pouch containing "mail for Yonkers."

According to one of the passengers on the train the holdup men made their escape in an auto that bore New Jersey license plates.

Sacred Heart Orphanage Children Go on Outing

The boys and girls of the Sacred Heart Orphanage at West Park are today enjoying their annual outing and picnic as guests of the Knights of Columbus.

Forty cars took the young folks, accompanied by the Sisters of the orphanage, through the city at 11:30 o'clock this morning. They were to make a trip around the Ashokan Reservoir, after which they returned to Forsyth Park for a dinner and picnic. Games and various other provisions for a good time had been prepared, with return to the Orphanage scheduled for 4 o'clock.

The oldest agricultural college in the United States is Michigan State, established in 1853.

Publisher Says Germans Demand Recall of Photos

March of Time Is Under Threat of Legal Action Unless Picture Is Cut From Feature

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Louis De Rochemont, publisher of March of Time, said a German government representative last night demanded removal of all portions of the Nazi picture "Feuertaufe" from the feature "The Ramparts We Watch," under threat of legal action and expulsion from Germany of Time and Life employees. De Rochemont said in a statement that Baron Ulrich Von Gienanth, second secretary at the German embassy in Washington, notified him Germany would institute court action immediately, if the March of Time war feature were not censored.

The publisher declared that he, with the approval of Board Chairman Henry R. Luce of Time, Inc., refused to censor the picture and told Von Gienanth they would welcome a showdown on Germany's indirect censorship of American films.

De Rochemont said such censorship had been used by Germany for more than two years, and that he was determined to "bring it out into the open."

"Feuertaufe" (Baptism of Fire), was made in Germany, De Rochemont said, "to show the might of the German army," but has been so arranged with "The Ramparts We Watch" that it has become anti-Nazi propaganda instead of pro-Nazi propaganda.

City's Rainfall Was .83 of Inch; Cool Weather Remains

There was a precipitation of .83 of an inch of rain in Kingston during the storm of Wednesday, according to the records in the city engineer's office. The highest temperature recorded that day by the official city thermometer was 60 degrees at 12:20 o'clock that afternoon.

With a temperature of 60 degrees and lower throughout the day yesterday was the coldest day experienced this August, and the coldest August day on record in the city since the city engineer's office have been keeping weather records.

The lowest temperature recorded this morning was Sunday night when 41 degrees was reported.

The city thermometer recorded a low of 57 degrees last night. The total rainfall this month including yesterday's fall has been 1.75 inches. August, 1939, there was a rainfall of more than 3 inches.

Dewey Will Aid Willkie's Drive

New York District Attorney to Make Speeches

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey probably will make speeches for the Willkie-McNary ticket in Chicago and Kansas City, according to Samuel F. Pryor, Republican eastern campaign manager.

"Mr. Willkie is anxious to have Mr. Dewey make a speech in both Illinois and Missouri," he declared, adding that the dates had not been worked out.

He indicated former Governor Alfred E. Smith also would speak for the Republican ticket.

Curious Problems

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Lost and penniless war refugees posed curious problems for the Travelers' Aid Society today following the arrival of the army transport American Legion from Finland. A number found temporary haven in the society's guest house last night following the ship's docking, and today they sought to locate friends and relatives, some of whom did not know they were in this country.

Probation Officer Cites Alleged Nazi Influence

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 28 (AP)—The enlistment of a 19-year-old youth in the United States Army at the behest of the German-American Bund was alleged yesterday by Hudson county Probation Officer Adolph P. Kern.

Kern made the disclosure as the youth, David Van Buskirk of Kearny, was sentenced to a reformatory in connection with the theft of a motorcycle in Oklahoma while on probation for a previous offense.

Buskirk joined the Bund, Kern told the court, after meeting a German girl whose sympathies were with the Nazis. Kern said the boy told him Bund leaders urged him to join the army and get in the signal corps, which he did last January.

Transferred to the infantry when Kern informed the Federal Bureau of Investigation of Buskirk's Nazi leanings, the youth deserted shortly after and later was dishonorably discharged.

Crosby Tries Golf

Hollywood, Aug. 29 (AP)—Bing Crosby, who promotes Del Mar's open golf tourney every winter just for fun, finally has a shot at one he'll take seriously—the national amateur. Crosby just missed qualifying for one of Southern California's four places in the trial round Tuesday but the No. 4 man withdrew. That made Crosby, who shot 152, eligible. Friends said he would delay a South American vacation to play at Mamaroneck September 9 to 14.

Willkie Conducts Front Porch Drive

terday in the shaded back yard of his residence.

Suggests New Section

Sprawled on the grass while the reporters sat in a semi-circle around him, Willkie suggested a section be written in the conscription bill to give exemption boards in each community power to determine which men should be freed from selective draft.

"Under that system," he said, "the administration of the act would be both local and free of politics."

Willkie sent a telegram to Senator Hiram Johnson of California, congratulating him on winning the Democratic, Republican and Progressive nominations.

"It is fortunate," the message said, "that the people of California are able to recognize a true

Progressive even though some others may not."

Asked whether he referred to President Roosevelt's assertion that Johnson no longer was a liberal, Willkie smiled and said, "you fellows can define who the 'some others' are."

Then he added, "the president's attack on him (Johnson) probably helped him."

Commenting that Mr. Roosevelt had said there was no more cause to release a report by the former war resources board than to make public civil war plans, the Republican nominee added:

"Perhaps the president should release it as a historical document. Even if it is history, I would like to have the pleasure of studying it."

Willkie called last week for publication of the report, which was compiled last year by a board headed by Edward R. Stettinius.

Replies to Note

Berlin, Aug. 29 (AP)—The British government has replied through

Swiss diplomatic channels to a German note warning against the continued shooting down of Nazi first aid planes, but authorities said today they could do close nothing further.
